One of the features of the convention will be the visit here by four officers of the grand lodge of Elks. Seldom does more than one grand lodge officer attend a state convention it was said, and it is unusual for more than two high officials to be at a meeting of this kind. The four grand lodge officers who will visit here are: Floyd E. Thompson, Moline, Ill., grand exalted ruler; J. E. Masters, Chicago, grand secretary; Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan, grand esteemed leading knight; and Floyd Maxwell, Chicago, grand trustee.

Mr. Broughton is in Appleton today, but the Illinois members not expected to arrive here until Friday morning.

Registration of Elks and their ladies to take place from 9 to 10 a. m. this morning until 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Elks lodge. To be followed by a business session of the Elks association and a banquet at 7:30 p. m. at the Elks lodge.

The response was made by Raymond C. Dwyer, LaCrosse, state president. Following these talks the convention routine started.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon a tree planting ceremony will take place at the clubhouse. The tree is to commemorate the fact that the city of Appleton and the local lodge is host to the state association. Mr. Broughton will give an address at this ceremony.

The Appleton Elks band will present a concert in front of the clubhouse from 7 to 7:30 this evening and at 7:30 there will be a continuation of the business session of the association at the clubhouse. At this time there also will be the ritualistic exemplification contest, which will be awarded. The winner will also receive the president's cup. At 9:30 tonight there will be a dance and entertainment in the clubhouse.

Visiting Elks and their ladies may continue to register Friday at the clubhouse, although the day's activities in connection with the convention will be centered at Butte des Morts golf club. Friday's business session will be held from 9 to 10 a. m. at Butte des Morts. During the entire day members will participate in a golf tournament at Butte des Morts and a trap shoot at the Appleton Angling and Shooting club. From 12 to 2 p. m. a buffet luncheon will be served at Butte des Morts.

Meeting Friday Noon
Friday noon exalted rulers and secretaries of state lodges will gather at Conway hotel for a noon business meeting and luncheon. Mr. Thompson, grand exalted ruler, will be the principal speaker.

At 6:30 in the evening there will be a banquet at the Elks club in honor of Mr. Thompson. This will be attended by both Elks and their ladies. The golf and trap shooting prizes will be awarded at that time. Music for the banquet will be furnished by the Manitowoc Elks orchestra. At 8:30 p. m. there will be a concert by the Appleton Elks band and the Manitowoc Elks orchestra and at 10 o'clock there will be a dance and entertainment.

Saturday's program opens with the final business session at the Elks clubhouse.

Spanish General Sentenced to Die

Draws Death Penalty for Leading Rebellion
Against Republic

BULLETIN
Madrid (P)—The government tonight granted clemency to General Jose Sanjurjo, commanding general of the Spanish army, who had been sentenced to death earlier in the day for leading the recent revolt against the republic.

Madrid (P)—Jose Sanjurjo Sacanell, one of the most famous Spanish soldiers of modern times and commanding general of the army, was sentenced to death today for leading a rebellion against the Republic.

A mixed civil and military tribunal of the supreme court reached the verdict after 20 hours of deliberation, while the nation waited and demonstrations for and against the "Hero of Morocco" were restrained with difficulty by government forces.

General Sanjurjo's lifelong friend and companion-in-arms, General Hernandez, was given a prison sentence of 30 years which is equivalent to life. Lieutenant Colonel Infante was sentenced to 12 years. General Sanjurjo's son, Justo, a captain, was given his freedom.

General Sanjurjo's attorney immediately started efforts for clemency. He appealed to the president against a sentence he called "a disgrace against the government and the country." France was asked to intervene because Sanjurjo was decorated with the legion of honor in the presence of Spanish and French army detachments for heroic work in Morocco.

There was no recommendation of clemency in any of the sentences. The government alone has the power to alter the verdicts, and immediately began a study, refusing to make any announcement pending a decision of an cabinet meeting. Those close to the cabinet members gave the impression of gloominess. A dispatch from Barcelona said a special judge had ordered Justo Sanjurjo's property, worth approximately 1,000,000 pesetas, seized.

Bar Little Eva From Performing in Fairs

Fond du Lac (P)—Little Eva, described by side show barkers as a wild woman who bites heads off live chickens and swallows poisonous snakes has been barred from further public appearances at Wisconsin fairs.

The ban was ordered yesterday by Charles L. Hill, state commissioner of markets and agriculture, after Dr. G. B. McKnight, city health officer, had failed to close the show at the county fair grounds.

Dr. McKnight said the order of the state commissioner applies to every county fair in Wisconsin. The act previously ran unopposed at county fairs in Cedarburg and Plymouth.

Stamp Collectors Help Cut U. S. Postal Deficit

Washington (P)—Philatelists and just plain stamp collectors may take credit for helping cut down the postal deficit.

Michael L. Eidsness, Jr., superintendent of the division of stamps, attributes most of an $80,000 increase in the post office department's stamp business this year to those who accumulate new and unusual stamps. The varied Washington bicentennial issues, Olympic games and other new and special stamps have built up this year's increase.

May Seek Writ to Secure Prisoner

Michigan and Minnesota
Authorities Continue
Battle for Jacobinski

Minneapolis (P)—Habeas corpus proceedings may be instituted here today by Michigan authorities against local officials in an effort to regain possession of John Jacobinski, alleged bank robber and slayer.

While legal forces prepared to argue about him, Jacobinski remained in the city jail, where he was placed last night by police after sheriff E. J. Reindl of Menominee, Mich., had brought him here from Seattle.

Sheriff Reindl was taking Jacobinski to Michigan to face bank robbery charges. He stopped here while witnesses to the killing of Gordon Wilson of Chicago, on a downtown street July 5, viewed Jacobinski and identified him as the slayer.

Minneapolis police then refused to return Jacobinski to Sheriff Reindl and said the suspect's indictment on a charge of murder would be sought here.

Amherst Junction Fire Damage Totals $30,000

Amherst Junction, Wis. (P)—A $30,000 fire wiped out a portion of this village yesterday afternoon. The blaze destroyed the railway station, an elevator, four large potato warehouses, cow shed and the stockyards.

Stevens Point firemen were called and by night had the blaze under control.

The fire started in the station of the Green Bay and Western railroad. The Soo Line had quarters in a sub-level of the structure. A railroad embankment and a southwest wind kept the flames out of the business section.

Sarazen Won't Play In National P. G. A.

Rochester, N. Y. (P)—Gene Sarazen, who arrived here today for an exhibition match, said he would not play in the national P. G. A. tournament.

"I failed to qualify," he said, "and therefore I will not play, even if withdrawals leave an opportunity. At any rate I am on an exhibition tour for six weeks, which completely ties my hands."

The British open and national open champion leaves here tonight for a match tomorrow at Buffalo.

Oshkosh Flier Takes Off On Ocean Trip to Norway

Harbor Grace, N. F. (P)—Clyde A. Lee of Oshkosh, Wis., and John Bochkon of Brooklyn, N. Y., took off at 5:02 a. m. E. S. T., today, for Oslo, Norway.

Their plane, "The Green Mountain Boy," rose into a cloudless sky. Weather reports gave them a tail wind across the Atlantic and predicted clear weather on the other side except for some rain 600 miles out.

The fliers expected to make the 3,150 miles to Oslo in 30 hours but they carried enough gasoline to stay aloft for seven hours beyond that time.

2 Men Fined for Drunken Driving

Pair Arrested at Kaukauna
Pay Fines of $50,
Costs Each

Two more drunken drivers were fined $50 and costs each in justice courts at Kaukauna this morning, bringing the total number of drunken drivers in Kaukauna to three in two days. The drivers are: Chester Youngberg, Waukegan, Ill., who was fined by N. Schwin, justice of the peace, and John Green, Kaukauna, who was fined by Theodore Seggelink, justice of the peace.

Yesterday William Mickie, route 3, Kaukauna, was fined $50 and costs by Justice Schwin. He had been arrested the previous night after his car crashed through a show window at the Fargo Furniture store.

Youngberg was arrested early Wednesday evening after his car had tipped over at the intersection of Lawe and Ducharme-sts., while he was attempting to turn from Lawe-st to Ducharme-sts. The machine was not badly damaged. John Boetker, a passenger in Youngberg's car, suffered a slight cut on one arm. Walton Cooper, Kaukauna, who was also in the car, was not injured. Youngberg was arrested by Harold Engstrom, motorcycle officer.

Green was arrested about midnight by Officer Oscar Jahns, when he noticed Green's car being driven in an erratic manner on Second-st. Under the state law the drivers' licenses of these men cannot be revoked by a justice. When they are taken into court here their licenses are usually revoked for six months.

New York (P)—Captain James A. Mollison, Scottish flier, today was considering an offer to go into the movies.

He was tendered an offer yesterday by Warner Brothers to serve as technical advisor for the company's aviation films as well as to take part in some of the pictures.

Meanwhile he awaited reports of favorable weather for his return flight to England. Dr. James M. Kumball, the weatherman, said that stormy weather blocks Mollison's path and that it would be two or three days before the contrary conditions move out of the way.

Gilliland said that Harold Gesel, Iowa state ballistics expert at Des Moines, had checked the findings of Detective Ronald MacDonald of the Omaha police force and agreed with them exactly.

"There is not a bit of doubt in the world that bullets from Jenkins' gun Sivigliano. The test bullet and the bullets from Sivigliano's body corresponded exactly," said Gilliland.

Gilliland said Hester and Arnold who were arrested in Omaha with Jenkins, will face the same charge at a preliminary hearing is scheduled for late today.

Wield Clubs To Disperse Strike Army

100 Miners Injured. Six Seriously. by Deputy Sheriffs

SHOOT AT CARS

Machines Plunge Into Ditches as Masses
Flee Barrage

Benton, Ill. (P)—Bedraggled clusters of defeated men and women were all that remained today of the confident throng of approximately 15,000 striking miners and members of their families who attempted to invade Franklin-co late yesterday, to picket coal mines as a protest against lowered wages.

Fifteen men of gunfire and wielding of clubs by a force of approximately 600 deputy sheriffs brought an end to the attempted invasion, which leaders of the strikers had termed the "greatest labor march ever undertaken in the United States."

Nearly a hundred miners suffered battered heads and six persons were injured seriously enough to require medical treatment, including two who suffered minor bullet wounds.

Desert Automobiles

Fleeing pell-mell when the firing began, the invading strikers deserted approximately 300 of their automobiles and trucks at the scene of the onslaught. In the hurry to escape, automobiles were driven into ditches or plowed into corn fields along the highway where the clash occurred, near the western boundary line of Franklin-co.

Shotguns and pistols were fired at the tires and bodies of the automobiles and trucks that led the advance of the 9-mile caravan and windshields were broken by flailing clubs in the hands of the deputy sheriffs. Some of the marchers were cut by flying glass but the injuries of most of them were inflicted by deputies who climbed aboard the cars and pummeled the occupants.

Flee Under Barrage

The strikers, whose leaders had insisted that the invasion would be peaceful, made no resistance. Bewildered by the din of gunfire and shouts they escaped quickly as possible and fled back into Perry-co. Later some of the straggling groups made camps along the highways, at safe distances from Franklin-co, and spent the night. The main group of the routed marchers, however, returned to Duquoin, northwest of the scene of the defeat, and spent the night in the Perry-co fairgrounds.

Some of the leaders said another attempt would be made to invade Franklin-co, but state highway patrolmen who aided the retreating strikers in their flight from Franklin-co said their forces had been hopelessly dispersed, and that many of the marchers returned to their homes in northern and central Illinois, which they had left yesterday for the invasion of Franklin-county's rich coal fields.

A half mile west of Mulkeytown, a crossroads village about two miles over the Franklin-co line, the deputy sheriffs lined the highway. All were armed. Shot guns, machine guns, revolvers and clubs were brandished before the invaders. As the caravan crossed a railroad track, deputies climbed aboard the first five cars, directing the drivers to the highway intersection and ordering them to halt.

Cars Trip Over

Along the line of retreat back into Perry-co, automobiles toppled or were pushed off the road, several overturning. Late last night a group of miners sought to retrieve their deserted cars in Franklin county but Sheriff Browning Robinson ordered them to stay on their side of the line unless they wanted another drubbing. Today, he said, the cars would be shoved over the line and the miners might get them.

There were, observers reported, a few women in the advance guard of the strike parade. None was reported hurt.

The deputy coroners of both Franklin and Perry counties said there were no deaths.

Striking miners, however, said they had killed several of those who fled at the sound of the barrage were seriously wounded.

Scientific Author Ends Life to Escape Sentence

Chicago (P)—Dr. A. J. Karahus, 42, author of more than 20 books and pamphlets on scientific subjects, ended his life by drinking poison, because his widow said, he feared he would be sent to jail for failing to pay alimony to a former wife.

Dr. Karahus killed himself last Tuesday night, but the motive his widow ascribed, was not revealed until yesterday when a coroner's jury returned a verdict of "suicide while temporarily insane."

25 Eskimos Who Boarded "Ghost Ship" are Missing

Point Barrow, Alaska (P)—Twenty-five Eskimos who went out to board the "Ghost Ship" Baychimo early in the week were still missing today, and the shifting ice has again carried the vessel out of sight. Two other searching parties sent back word they had not found the ship.

Last seen Monday morning, the Baychimo was 15 miles west of here and drifting to the southwest at about three miles an hour. A strong southerly wind sprang up pushing the ice inshore and making search difficult.

Jail 63 Strikers After Clash With Sheriff's Forces

Abandonment of Old Railroad Will Cost Employe Five Jobs

St. Paul, Minn. (P)—Henry Binnell of Deer River is going to lose a lot of jobs Saturday; five of them to be exact.

The management of the Minneapolis and St. Paul railroad says it simply can't go on operating at a loss it's 63 miles of track built in 1890 to tap a lumber stand. A court writ has been obtained preventing the state railroad and warehouse commission from interfering with abandonment of the line Saturday.

So Henry will forego his duties of conductor, brakeman, flagman machinist and handyman.

Chicago Banker Sentenced 1 to 5 Years in Prison

Judge Recommends Bain's
Release After 18
Months Confinement

Chicago (P)—John Bain, 73-year-old financier whose chain of 13 Chicago banks collapsed with a loss of $13,000,000 to depositors, was sentenced today to a term of from one to five years in the state penitentiary.

Judge John M. O'Connor previously had announced the sentence would be 18 months. The judge recommended today that the state board of pardons and paroles bring about the elderly banker's release after 18 months has been served.

In pronouncing sentence, the judge said he had taken into consideration Bain's age, the reputation which won for him the name of "Honest John" among associates, and the state of economic conditions preceding the banks' closing 14 months ago.

Three co-defendants in the case, John H. and Robert A. Bain, sons of the banker, and W. Merle Fisher, his son in law, were fined $1,000 each.

During the 51 day trial before Judge O'Connor without a jury, prosecutors charged the defendants conspired to defraud the public, accepted deposits after they knew the banks were insolvent, and were guilty of irregular financial and real estate manipulations. They were convicted only on a conspiracy charge.

A 75 day stay of sentence was granted for defense attorneys to appeal.

Police Launch Hunt for Missing Pastor, Woman

Washington, Pa. (P)—State police today were asked to search for Rev. Carl Whipple, 35, and Mrs. Arabella Glessner, 28-year-old mother of two, who disappeared from the home of Whipple's parents more than a week ago.

The officers were notified that Mrs. Glessner's husband, a prosperous livestock trader and farmer of Berlin, Pa., has offered a $100 reward for information concerning his wife.

Mrs. Glessner terminated a visit to the Whipple home Aug. 15, saying she was returning to her home. She has not been seen since.

The next day Whipple left home, telling his wife he intended to attend a fraternal gathering in New-castle.

Whipple, a Methodist Episcopal minister, does not have a church at present. Shortly after his departure, he received a pupil call and his wife tried in vain to locate him in Newcastle.

With Mrs. Glessner at the time of her disappearance was one of her two daughters, Ruth, 8. Whipple has one son.

DIES AFTER PLUNGE

Twelve Sentenced to $100 Fine or 30 Days in Jail

CLEAR HIGHWAYS See Partial Collapse of Farm Picketing Movement

Council Bluffs, Iowa (P)—Sixty-three farm strikers were in jail today following a clash last night with a force of 100 men under Sheriff Percy Lainsow.

Twelve of those arrested were seized on Highway 34, and the remainder taken into custody near here.

During the night Sheriff Lainsow posted a special guard around the jail, fearing an attack. Three men manned sub-machine guns, and an armed guard patrolled the front of the jail. Small groups approached the building but there was no attempt at attack.

CLEAR HIGHWAYS

Council Bluffs, Iowa (P)—All highways into Council Bluffs except one, were cleared of Farmers Holiday association picketers shortly before noon today.

At least temporary respite followed nearly 24 hours of apprehension, during which Sheriff P. A. Lainsow's special force of deputies, armed with tear gas bombs and guns, struggled to make the highways safe for truckers.

A few strikers remained, however, on Highway 34, scene of last night's disorders.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Lainsow, sheriffs of a few nearby counties, and about 50 deputies were preparing to offer armed escort to truck drivers.

Squadrons of deputies, mobilized this morning and ordered by Lainsow to clear highways of strikers, upon arriving at roads number 75, 6, and 7, found that the picketers had left.

Of the 63 men in jail, 49 were arrested last night's encounter. Twelve of them have been sentenced by Justice Jack Dewitt to $100 fines or 30 days in jail. Hearings for the others were in progress this morning.

Guard Jail

Sheriff Lainsow had stationed men with a sub-machine gun and other weapons at the doors and windows of the jail and courthouse. No disturbance occurred last night despite rumors that a jail delivery might be attempted.

Meanwhile, at Boone, another picketing center during the past week, 50 farmers called upon Sheriff Moore and demanded that he keep highways open to traffic. The farmers intended to organize an anti-picketing crew to offset farmers' holiday activities.

These developments were seen as at least a partial collapse of picketing movement, by which National Farmers Holiday association members hoped to prevent marketing of farm goods and thereby to raise produce prices.

At Sioux City Sheriff John A. Davenport instructed his deputies to stop picketing. Before 10 a. m. today 75 strikers were in jail at Sioux City.

Council Bluffs, Iowa (P)—A tense situation prevailed on the Council Bluffs sector of the striking farmers war for higher prices today following a flareup of hostilities in which four men were injured.

All of the injured were officers who sought to break the picket lines of striking farmers seeking to prevent the shipment of farm produce into the important market center of Omaha, just across the Missouri river from Council Bluffs.

Bricks, clubs, and pieces of railroad ties flew through the air last night when five officers in a police car with tear gas drove through a crowd of picketing farm folk, some of them women and children. Shots were fired into the air by one of the officers as the car went through the crowd.

Spectators Gassed

Numerous strikers and onlookers were gassed. Despite the efforts of the officers to break up the picket formations, the farmers were back on the highways, with reinforcements reported arriving from other strike centers.

There was talk of asking Gov. Dan Turner for intervention of the National Guard, now encamped at Camp Dodge for annual maneuvers but Sheriff P. A. Lainsow, leading the law enforcement officers, expressed confidence the situation could be kept under control by local authorities.

Guests Continue to Suelet; Find Heat System in Operation

Valentine, Neb. (P)—Cool winds broke a three day heat spell here but they brought no relief to guests at the Marian hotel.

An irate roomer called the night clerk and demanded why the steam heat was on. He found that the automatic heating system had switched on when the wind turned to the north.

Create Twelve Districts for Federal Banks

Board Hopes to Make Immediate Selection of Headquarters

Washington — (P) — Headquarters for 12 banks to serve home-financing institutions in each of the dozen districts it has created were sought today by the federal home loan board.

This was the next move forward after yesterday's action dividing the country into 12 districts. Speedy action was promised by the board.

Difficulties in determining the new banking regions were solved by the board after a two-week study. It said the districts were arranged so that states in each would have mortgages sufficient to supply business for the district home loan bank.

This rule determined also the amount of capital for each district. The New York area, topping all others on the basis of $5,500,000,000 in available mortgages, was assigned $20,000,000 capital.

The districts, available mortgages, and assigned capital for each bank are:

- No. 1—Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. Mortgages $3,500,000,000; capital $12,500,000.
- No. 2—New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. Mortgages $5,500,000,000; capital $20,000,000.
- No. 3—Delaware, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. Mortgages $1,600,000,000; capital $12,500,000.
- No. 4—Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and the District of Columbia. Mortgages $520,000,000; capital $10,000,000.
- No. 5—Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee. Mortgages $1,350,000,000; capital $15,000,000.
- No. 6—Michigan, and Indiana. Mortgages $775,000,000; capital $8,000,000.
- No. 7—Wisconsin and Illinois. Mortgages $825,000,000; capital $15,000,000.

Obtains Writ to Keep Sons Out of Pictures

Los Angeles — (P) — Lita Grey, divorced wife of Charles Chaplin, comedian, said today she would oppose efforts of her former husband to prevent their two sons from entering films.

"I don't believe any parent has the right to take away the chance of their children entering any profession and particularly when it is one which they will follow in the footsteps of their father," said Mrs. Chaplin.

The screen comedian was in possession of a temporary order restraining Mrs. Chaplin from allowing the boys, Charles Jr., 7 and Sydney, 6, to enter film work. A hearing will be held Saturday. Mrs. Chaplin recently signed a contract for the boys, and herself, with the Fox Film Corporation.

Returns to Throttle After Visit With King

Falls City, Neb. — (P) — Gus Phillips, railroad engineer who shook hands with a king was back home here today, at the end of a three-month vacation trip to his native Bulgaria.

He told the home folks how King Boris of Bulgaria sent a carriage for him.

"The guards warned me not to shake hands with the king," he said. "It seems this was against the rules. I was supposed to make a stiff bow and address him as 'your majesty.'"

"But when I entered the room where King Boris was sitting I couldn't resist the temptation and walked right up and shook hands. The king smiled and didn't mind it at all. We enjoyed a long chat and I told him about the American railway system."

Gus will be back the throttle of his locomotive in a few days.

Order Police Officers To Reduce or Resign

Minneapolis — (P) — Reduce or resign is the order sent out to Minneapolis policemen who are over-size.

City officials have decided too many policemen are too fat so they told the heavy army of the law they would either have to remove their "bay windows" or their stars.

"It looks as if they want a bunch of blunkin' gigolos," a desk sergeant grumbled, visioning tedious days of setting up exercises and 18 day diets.

Earthquake Raises Havoc In Baguio and La Union

Manila — (P) — Residents of Baguio and La Union, mountain localities 300 miles north of here, today surveyed damage wrought late last night when the most severe earthquake in several years shook the district.

Several thousand dollars damage was done but no casualties were reported. A landslide blocked the main highway into the district overnight. Many residents slept in the streets after the shock, fearing a recurrence.

Mrs. Earhart, looking tired but happy, could be seen smiling in the ship.

The unofficial time for her flight was 18 hours and two minutes. The west-east non-stop record for men is held by Frank Hawks at 17 hours 39 minutes and 59 seconds.

Mrs. Putnam who left Los Angeles yesterday at 12:26 p. m. P. S. T., was unsighted on her flight since she passed over Amarillo, Texas, as 11:10 p. m., E. S. T. last night. At that time, she had flown only 1,001 miles airline distance in eight hours, averaging about 125 miles an hour. The last 2,000 miles she must have made at a speed exceeding 181 miles an hour.

Although she had been expected to fly the regular air route, passing over Columbus, Ohio, she was unsighted until at the moment of her landing. The U. S. weather bureau teletype at Newark airport was carrying a report a plane believed to have been Mrs. Putnam's had been sighted over Indianapolis at 8:30 a. m., E. S. T.

May Employ Civilians For K. P. Duty at Camp

Fort Snelling, Minn. — "Kitchen police" duty, that bugaboo of all soldiers' lives, soon may be eliminated at the Fort Snelling army post. Plans were revealed today whereby civilians may be employed to take care of such tasks as peeling potatoes and washing dishes, providing Brig. General John H. Hughes, commanding, approves. There are 18 companies of troops at the fort and each would have to vote in favor of the suggestion before it could be approved. Each private would be asked to contribute a pro-rata share of the costs employing the necessary help.

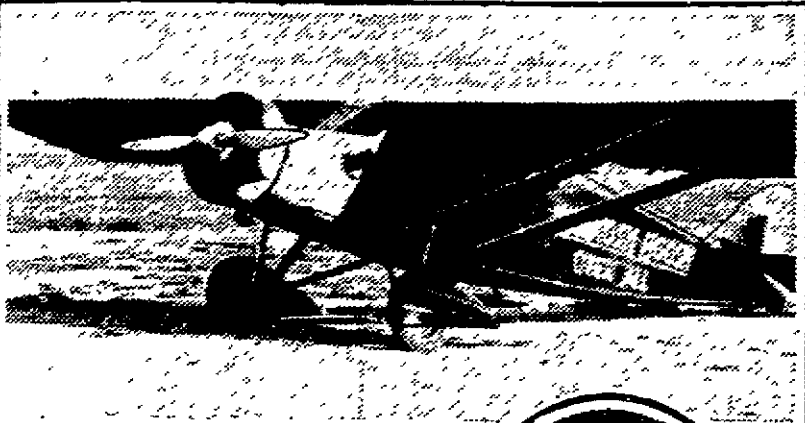

If finally adopted, the change would mean employment of 40 civilians here, with former service men being given preference.

Blame Sixth Cop In Stark Slaying

Five Other Officers on Trial for Beating Prisoner to Death

Minneapolis, N. Y. — (P) — The trial of five policemen in the "torture killing" of Hyman Stark, young prisoner, went into its second day with the defense seeking to place the blame on a sixth policeman.

District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards contends the five, who are charged with manslaughter, did Stark to death with rubber hoses, black jacks, fists and feet "to punish him for attacking a cop's mouth."

Stark was under arrest accused of robbing and beating the mother of Joseph Hizenski, detective. Defense Attorney Charles R. Weeks, outlining his case yesterday, indicated the defense would seek to blame Hizenski.

He said he would produce witnesses to testify that Hizenski approached Stark at headquarters, cried "you're a fine guy to beat an old woman," and pounded him on the neck and face. Stark died of strangulation due to a fractured cartilage in the neck.

The five accused are Deputy Police Chief Frank J. Tappan, Lieut. Jesse Mayforth and Detectives Harry Zander, Charles Wesser and Leslie W. Pearsall.

Consistencies and Inconsistencies at Council Gathering

Consistencies and inconsistencies vied for favor at the meeting of the common council last night. Consistency scored a point when a man named Wood submitted a bid on wood, and inconsistency went one better as councilmen, mopping their brows and running fingers around damp collars, were asked to give tentative bids to the reading of bids on coal, wood and fuel oil. To make matters worse the electric fan had to be turned off so the city fathers could hear the offers to keep city buildings and indigent homes warm during the coming winter. Unfortunately the visions of cold mornings, snow and frost had no effect upon the temperature of the council chambers.

83 Drownings in First Six Months

Decrease of Eight Over Same Period Last Year In Wisconsin

Madison — (P) — There were 83 accidental drownings in Wisconsin during the first six months of 1932, a reduction of eight from the corresponding figure for a year ago, the state board of health announced today.

In 1931 a total of 217 persons drowned in the state, a reduction of 17 from the number of 1930. The 1929 toll was 239 and that of 1928 was 240, the records of the board reveal.

July and August are the months of highest mortality from drowning in Wisconsin. Many of other year's victims are visitors from other states who lose their lives in swimming and boating accidents either through inexperience or heedlessness, the board said.

The board said an increase of life saving facilities and local educational campaigns throughout the state are "the only feasible means of curtailing a loss of life that in the past eight years has aggregated a state total of 200 greater than the S. S. Titanic toll in 1912."

Buy Business Or Home Now, Keller Urges

These are Years of Golden Opportunities, Kiwanians Told

Advocating the purchase of homes, businesses, and commodities now, while the prices are low, Paul G. W. Keller, former principal of Appleton high school, said Wednesday noon in an address before the Kiwanis club at Conway hotel that two years from now the average citizen will regret that he did not borrow money to purchase things that can now be bought for a song.

"And we don't do it because we can't see the woods for the trees," he declared. "The depression has scared stiff, and we sit paralyzed while the greatest of opportunities await us. Future historians will count the years 1932 and 1933 as the years of golden opportunity, but because we can't see an inch beyond our noses we let them slip by."

Saying that the man who sits on the sidelines knows more about the game being played than the players themselves, Mr. Keller, who is now superintendent of schools at Eau Claire, pointed out that the recent sharp recovery in the American market came through European buyers, who could analyze the situation much better than those who are in the thick of it here.

Points to Securities, Including Stocks and Bonds, he said, "has increased 15 billion dollars in the last few weeks, which means that collateral in the banks has become electrified to that extent. The result is the same as it would have been if the United States had voted an appropriation of 15 billion dollars and given it to the banks."

He quoted John D. Rockefeller, Truesdale Adams, and Babson, and discussed the gold standard and the hoarding panic that brought on the depression.

"The ratio of credit to gold has increased in the last 100 years to $11 in credit to $1 in gold," he explained, "so when the people became panicky, and withdrew their gold from the banks, they took with it $10 of credit for every $1 in gold."

"What we need," he concluded, "is as much ingenuity in business as in engineering, science and all the other fields in which the world has advanced. Our economic thinking is 150 years behind the times. I predict that within the next few years the greatest advance will be in the economic field."

Warn Candidates Not to Post Bills Along Highways

A warning was issued today by F. R. Appleton, county highway commissioner, to all political candidates that their signs will not be permitted to remain posted on public highways. Mr. Appleton said his department had received orders from the state highway commission that all political signs are to be removed from along the highways. This means, Mr. Appleton said, that signs cannot be placed on posts, trees, stumps or any other available space where they are within the right of way of a highway.

Keep Alley Open Pending Decision

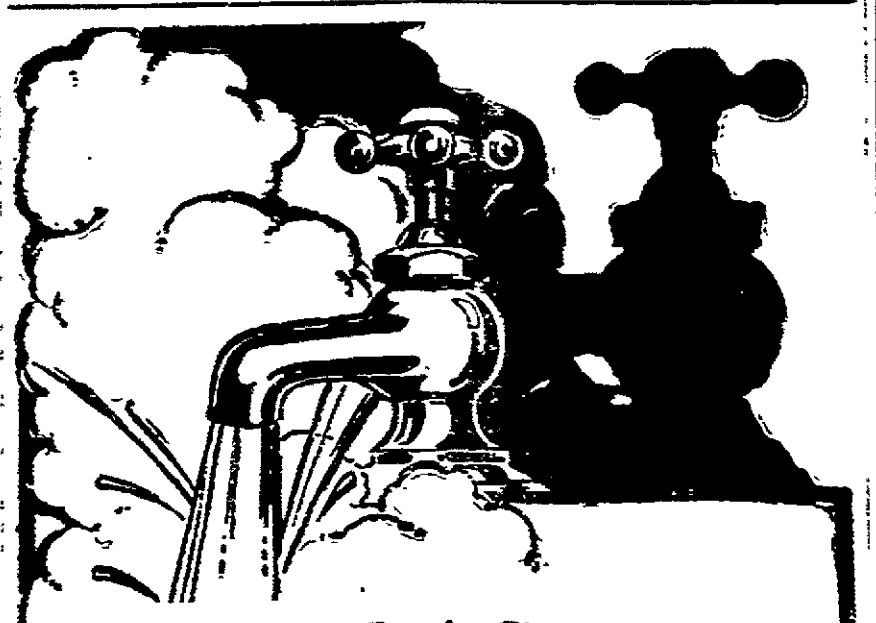

Courts Must Decide if Strip Of Land Is Private Property

Until the courts decide whether the strip of land is an alley or a piece of private property, the alley in block 57 will be opened, the common council decided at an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening. The alley, publicly used for 24 years, was closed recently by Henry Thiel, who has purchased the property from the Pierce Land company. Adjoining property owners are attempting to keep the alley open for public use.

The city attorney ruled that Mr. Thiel has no title to the property and that the city has the right to reopen the alley if it so desires. Sarto Ballet, appearing for Mr. Thiel, maintained that the alley property was rightfully owned by the heirs of the Humphrey Pierce estate, and that it has never been lost to the city through adverse possession. He explained that when the late Humphrey Pierce owned the land he sold the lot always reserving the alley property. When the Pierce will was probated, he said, the alley strip of land was never probated, and therefore still belonged to the Pierce heirs. He said that every few years, the last time in 1913 or 1914, the alley has been closed, and thus has never become the property of the city through adverse possession. He argued that the alley has been an eyesore to the property for many years, and that Mr. Thiel, who needs the extra strip of land, is not attempting to inconvenience his neighbors.

According to present estimates, Appleton will receive at least $15,000 less from the income tax in 1933 than in 1932 when $30,000 flowed into the city treasury from income tax collections. So far Joseph A. Kox, city treasurer, has received $83,000 from the county treasurer, Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, and it is estimated that about $12,000 more will be forthcoming. However, it is possible that a good part of the remainder will be delinquent or uncollectable.

Council Lets Contract for Light Systems

Project on Three Streets Goes to Art-Killoren Electric Co.

Contract for installation of the ornamental lighting systems on Superior, Appleton and Washington-sts was awarded to the Art-Killoren Electric company by the common council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening. The assessment of benefits and damages will be made by the board of public works and a hearing will be held at the next regular meeting of the council on Sept. 7. Two-thirds of the cost will be charged to the property.

The total cost of installation under the Art-Killoren contract will be $11,820. The Langstadt Electric company bid was $12,020. On its three separate bids, Art-Killoren company offered to do the work on Superior-st for $3,885 on Appleton-st for $5,740, and on Washington-st for $1,025. The Langstadt Electric company bid on Superior-st was $5,436, on Appleton-st, $5,963, and on Washington-st, $1,019.

A remonstrance against installing lights on W. Washington-st, between Appleton and Superior-sts, was read. The protest, which asked that the work be deferred until business conditions warrant the improvement was signed by five property owners, Hotel Appleton, Catholic Home, Schommer Funeral Home, J. J. Haertel and Bessie Steenis.

Warned Of Expenses

Announcing that by Aug. 1 the city had spent $38,785.66 more than last year at the same time, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., warned the council to cut down on expenses or an increase in tax rate would be necessary.

The park board is to be notified that Telulah park is now a part of the city park system. The property for the park was received from the Green Bay Mississippi Canal company in exchange for freedom from any further liability for the upkeep of the 10-acre canal beds.

Attorney Gives Report

An ordinance from C. C. Bossert, city attorney, on the liability for the repair of the bridge over the tailrace at the Appleton Woolen mill, pointed out that if the street were used by the city before the tailrace was built, the city is responsible for the upkeep of the bridge, whereas if the street were constructed after the tailrace, responsibility lies with the Woolen mill. The engineer was instructed to again inspect the bridge, and draw up plans if a new bridge is necessary.

An ordinance fixing the license fee for solicitors, chiefly those who sell coupons for the delivery of merchandise or service, at $5, was turned over to the ordinance committee. The ordinance, prepared by the attorney upon the request of the Chamber of Commerce, is an attempt to eliminate the practice of selling coupons from house to house.

A drain layer's license was granted to Leonard G. Schroeder.

Merchants Busy on Fall Dollar Day

College-ave and Adjoining Streets Crowded With Shoppers

Shopping bags and baskets, baby carriages, carts, bicycles and automobiles carried away the loot of the fall dollar day in Appleton today. There was little window shopping today, for one look at any window and the prospect was drawn inside the store to pick up this or that bargain. The avenue was crowded all day long, with hurrying shoppers loaded with boxes and bundles. There were more than the usual number of parcels dropping here and there as housewives attempted to handle more than they could carry, but most of the shoppers seemed so satisfied with the day's work that the dropping of an occasional bundle was only a minor irritation.

Several storekeepers sensed a spirit of returned optimism in the crowds that visited their stores today, and throughout the day people seemed to buy with greater freedom than has been noticed in the past few months. This may have been occasioned by the hope that prosperity is just around the corner, but a great part of it probably was due to the amazing offers made by the Appleton merchants.

Start Survey to Learn Need for Flour in County

If Demand Is Large Enough, Requisition Will be Made

A survey of Outagamie-co towns, cities and villages was started Thursday by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, in an effort to determine how much of the first shipment of free flour from the federal farm bureau had been used in poor relief work and how much would be needed during the next 90 days.

The first shipment of 738 barrels was received more than two months ago. Appleton received 450 barrels of the first allotment and the balance of 308 barrels was divided among the other towns, cities and villages. Mr. Hantschel points out in his letter that if conditions warrant a request will be made at once for the second allotment.

Municipality officials are asked to report the number of families who received flour from the first allotment, the number of families who will need flour during the next 90 days, the number of 50-pound bags required for the next 90-day period, whether the officials were satisfied with the first shipment, if there are any complaints about the flour.

Unless reports are received by Sept. 1, Mr. Hantschel says, it will be presumed that the municipality does not require any of the free flour. Mr. Hantschel is being aided in his efforts by the Outagamie-co Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Scores Kohler's Financial Set-Up

It Would Have Cost $9,000,000 Extra in Taxes, F. S. Claims

Seymour — (P) — State Senator Leonard C. F. S. progressive, candidate for attorney general, charged here today that the state, under former governor Kohler's "locke-eyed" financial arrangement "which would have cost at least $9,000,000 in extra taxes if it had been allowed to run another two years."

"Mr. Kohler on the stump is demanding to know why government reports are not made about the financial system under which he tried in vain to operate the state government," F. S. claims.

"Did not Mr. Kohler know that almost from the first thing that the 1931 legislature did was to repeal the Kohler financial set-up and to put the state government on a business basis?"

F. S. said the budget change made by the legislature was approved by the senate, "dominated by the Hoover-Kohler faction," with only Senator Elmer Hall of Green Bay voting against it and was unanimously approved in the assembly.

Speaking at Kaukauna last night on behalf of progressive candidates, Attorney General John J. Reynolds charged conservative candidates are attempting to make the proposal for a state police system a campaign issue.

"With about 200,000 men out of employment, with thousands of acres of land tax delinquent and with the mortgages on the farms when paid off with cheese, hogs, milk, eggs and cattle, three times as much as they were when you put them on, ex-governor Kohler wants to saddle on you $500,000 more in taxes for a state police system," he said.

"If we need a state police," the attorney general said, "I would suggest that the owners of the Milwaukee Journal, all of whom have large incomes, mostly from non-taxable dividends, offer to pay the expenses for the first year at least."

"Y" Directors Hear Committee Reports

Cafeteria committee reports, the question of leasing the southwest corner of the association property, and a recent bank loan were discussed by directors of the Y. M. C. A. at their meeting Wednesday night at the association building. They reviewed the cafeteria report and will continue study later. It was stated the lot lease plan still was pending because of failure to agree on a price.

George F. Werner, general secretary of the association, reported on success of several membership campaigns conducted by T. R. Jordan, who will conduct the annual campaign here in October.

Artillery Band Plays Concert at Asylum

newed assault on the picket lines, unless the concentration of strikers appeared too great for his men to handle.

The injured were: Lieut. Col. Henry C. Hall, chemical warfare officer on the staff of Brig. Gen. Matthew Tinley of the Iowa National Guard who suffered two five-inch gashes on his head; Deputy Game Warden C. H. Pangborn who received a three-inch gash just below one ear; and Policemen Phil Mosher and Watson who were cut and bruised.

The four, with Patrolman McTwigg, drove through the crowd of strikers with cars of compressed gas fastened on the running boards of their car. Strikers ran from the car, gasping and choking. The police car completed a run through the crowd and began a return trip.

Strikers then massed about the machine throwing bricks and clubs one of which crashed through the closed windows of the car, hitting Mosher and resulting in cuts to the three others. Mosher later admitted firing several shots into the air to make way for the machine. The policemen had earlier denied firing the shots, maintaining that they came from ranks of the strikers.

Return to Scene

After receiving medical attention the five officers with 30 additional deputies returned to the scene to supplement the work of 100 already on hand. The situation had quieted, however, and little activity was noted.

Some of the onlookers who suffered from the after-effects of the tear gas were Mrs. Genevieve Mauck, reporter of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, and three women accompanying her, Helen Laird of Tabor, Iowa, Mrs. William Johnson of Norfolk, Neb., and Ethel Omer of Tabor.

During the afternoon Sheriff Lanson had directed 100 deputies in a flying attack on all picketing stations on highways and arrested a number of strikers. At their arraignment before Justice of the Peace Jack Dewitt, 13 were sentenced to 30 days in jail or $100 fines.

They were: G. Forderberg, Wall and Con Heiden, Jack Petersen, Boyd Fraiser, A. P. Kirkin, Mac McCricker, and William Woeblek of Denison, Charles and W. R. Wohlert, Harold Thompson and Wilbur Adams of Missouri Valley and L. J. Schwery of Panama. George Lewis of Omaha and Gaylord Ford of 18, of Denison received suspended sentences.

Breeders Dismiss Farm Strike Plan

The strike plan, suggested for Badger farmers by the Farmers Holiday association at a meeting of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture at Madison this week, was discussed briefly at a meeting of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association at the residence of Otto Mossholder, town of Grand Chute, last night. A state wide meeting of farmers has been called at Marshfield Sept. 3 to discuss the plan.

R. J. Schaefer, who attended the meeting at Madison where the plan was proposed told of the session. No action was taken. The breeders also heard reports on the state and national conventions at Madison in June by Mr. Schaefer and Herman Wickert.

Oshkosh Aviator Starts for Norway

Hopes to Make Trip Over Atlantic Ocean in Thirty Hours

Montpelier, the Granite Center of the World" appears in white letters. The plane is red.

Farewell Party

The fliers arrived on the field an hour before the take off, warmed the motor, put their rations abroad and shook hands all around. The small gathering of local folks gave them a big cheer as they roared down the airport and took the air in the center of the field.

Lee, only 24, has done no ocean flying but has had about nine years experience in the air. He was once associated with the late "Speed" Holman in barnstorming exploits and has engaged in commercial flying in the west and in Mexico.

Bochkon, four years his senior, began his flying career in the Norwegian air forces. He came to the United States seven years ago and has continued his aviation activities as a pilot and engineer. Neither is married.

Their flight began at the Barre-Montpelier airport, Barre, Vt., Tuesday. They had planned to make Harbor Grace in one hop, refuel and go on to Oslo. They encountered heavy fog and rain over New Foundland on their first leg and Tuesday night landed at Burgeo to wait out the storm. They landed in Harbor Grace yesterday and immediately prepared their ship for this morning's departure.

Abandon Flight

Thor Solberg and Carl Peterson, who flew from New York Tuesday, bent on the same mission as Lee and Bochkon, were at Darby's harbor, Placentia Bay, today awaiting to dismantle their wrecked plane. Their hopes of any immediate flight to Norway disappeared during the heavy fog of Tuesday night, when their plane plunged into the waters of the harbor.

Douglas Fraser, St. John's aviator, flew into his home port last night with the first story of the crash which ended Solberg's hopes of a Trans-Atlantic hop. He brought the first word received beyond a brief message that they had crashed and had escaped death.

Solberg told Fraser he had planned a landing due to storm and fog at Burgeo, where he and Bochkon dropped their plane, but had decided the location was unsafe. They were overtaken, Solberg said, by a terrific storm while attempting to find a more favorable spot and he forced his plane above the wind and rain and had climbed to 5,000 feet altitude when he encountered a snow storm.

The engine stalled on a wide open throttle, he said, while attempting to maneuver above the blizzard and he started to vibrate but the ship went into a nose dive and plunged into the harbor.

Solberg plunged into the water but the ship remained afloat and he climbed back on to the fuselage. Peterson stayed with the plane and both were brought ashore by fishermen.

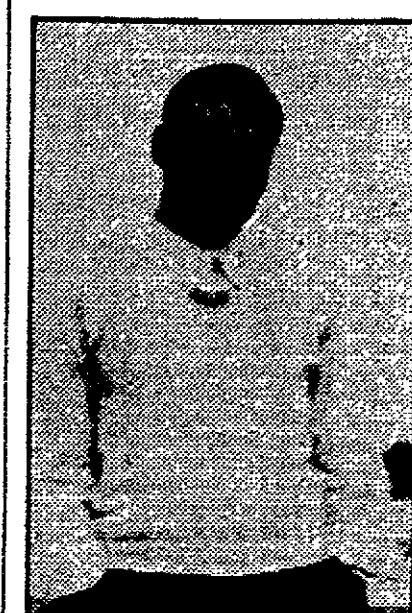

Darby's Harbor is a community of five families and has little communication with the outside world.

The eastern contingent, which joined the western wing here yesterday after a flight from Jackson, Miss., was led by Chappy Lenox of New Haven, Conn., with a score of 710.75. S. C. Huffman of Cincinnati was in second place with 621.75 and Fred Dorset of Augusta, Ga., third with 535.5.

At the head of the western group to Bartlesville from Oklahoma City yesterday all for nothing. Race officials decided last night not to count the 123 miles Oklahoma City-Bartlesville hop because of a refueling hitch at Oklahoma City which delayed departure of 13 planes. The point totals at Oklahoma City were declared final for the day.

The fliers were guests of Frank Phillips, wealthy oil man, at a Buffalo barbecue at his Woolaroc lodge in the Osage hills last night.

Peggy Gulliland of Los Angeles, an entrant in the western derby, suffered minor injuries in a forced landing yesterday near Spar, Tex., enroute from Lubbock to Oklahoma City. She notified officials she expected to rejoin the race today.

U. S. Business Heads to Talk Credit, Jobs

Domestic Side of Depression to be Theme at Washington Conference

• BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Business men and bankers will meet here this week in a gathering comparable in significance with the famous business survey conference of December, 1929. Again it might be said President Hoover is trying to mobilize business and industry and credit in an effort to increase employment and help economic recovery.

This week's conference, however, comes under different circumstances and in an atmosphere wholly different from that of two and a half years ago. At that time no allowance was made for possible repercussions from abroad. It was believed the crisis would be brief and the aid for short crisis, when in fact the disintegration abroad, climaxed by England's suspension of the gold standard, upset all calculations.

Europe now has cleared the ground. Recovery is seen abroad rather than collapse, and America is trying once more to lead the world back to recovery by strengthening her own situation.

The conference here, beginning tomorrow looks wholly to be domestic side of things. It has two objectives—the spreading of credit and a more scientific study of the possibilities of staggered employment.

Stagger System
One survey that has been made shows that if it had not been for the stagger system in industry, three million more persons would long ago have been added to the unemployment ranks. A committee probably will be appointed with governmental prestige to urge the benefits of this system.

As for credit, this is a problem which the various committees in the twelve reserve districts have been struggling to solve. New suggestions for trade acceptances, or rather new ways of using the acceptance idea, are being studied. The furnishing of working capital for American business at a time of depleted reserves and stringent policies about lending on the part of the banks has made the problem one for acute consideration.

The last business conference had a good deal of ballyhoo surrounding it due to a belief that the only trouble with the country was a depressed psychology. Since then it has been discovered that fundamental conditions had to be remedied.

Since the political campaign is on in full swing, much of what is said or done at the Washington conference this week will naturally be discounted. But the effort of the administration is to try to keep any political flavor out of it and leave it to business and industry and the credit leaders of the country to offer under government auspices their formula for economic improvement.

A BOOK A DAY BY BRUCE CATTON

Hot Water
When a new book by P. G. Wodehouse comes out, it really isn't necessary for the critic to do anything but give the book's name, tell its price and let the public know where it can be bought.

Mr. Wodehouse's books are always funny, always engagingly written, always charmingly devoid of any underlying vein of seriousness. They never try to expose anything, they never try to satirize anything. Mr. Wodehouse simply writes about impossible people doing impossible things in an exceedingly comical manner. And what more can you ask?

All of this is by way of preface to the announcement that there is a new Wodehouse book on the market. It is called "Hot Water," and it's one of his best.

The scene of this one is a French chateau, which has been rented by a rich American who suffers under the domination of his wife, who is trying to get him appointed American ambassador to France. To further her aims, she invites to the chateau a famous American senator who is touring Europe and a young French vicomte; and into the thick of things charge an American football star, an English heiress, two Chicago gangsters and a highbrow English novelist.

Doubtless you can imagine what Mr. Wodehouse does with all of these people. If you follow my advice, you'll read "Hot Water" at once.

Corns All Gone Big and Small Radox Took Them Roots and All

In England they have a sensible easy way to get rid of corns in just a few days—a joyous invigorating foot bath every night for 3 or 4 nights—then lift out the corn—out to stay.

Ask Schlitz Bros. Co. or any drugstore for a package of Radox, 2 sizes 4¢ and 8¢. Hard corns—soft corns—callouses—hard skin on heels and toes—it's all the same to Radox—you'll have new, strong, flawless feet a week from now—ask for Radox—and enjoy walking—

2 Methods to Make Hay of Sudan Gras

Farmers Either Cut it With Mower or Use Grain
Binder

BY W. F. WINSEY

Two methods of making hay out of Sudan grass are in practice by the farmers of Outagamie-co.

The one is to cut the grass with a mower, rake it into windrows, shake the windrows with forks, and either cock the grass or load it from the windrows. The other is to cut the grass with a grain binder, set the bundles up in shocks, and after the grass is cured to load the bundles on racks as grain bundles.

In the mower method of making hay of Sudan grass the green color and leaves both of which are very important in hay, are apt to be lost and a large amount of heavy work is required.

In the grain binder method of making Sudan grass hay the shocks are not disturbed before the hay is cured and ready for the mows, the green color of the hay and the leaves are saved, and the hay making is no harder work than harvesting a field of oats.

If the grass is too heavy for the grain to handle this objection may be met with the cutting of less than full swaths.

For the same identical reasons stated above the grain binder method is being adopted in making hay of sweet clover, and soybeans. In each case the hay cures, perfectly without shaking, raking, and turning, in the shocks.

"IF IT'S CITIES SERVICE... IT HAS TO BE GOOD"

The Truth about Anti-knock can't be hidden from this machine

This is the machine that reveals the truth about anti-knock. Here's how it works. First, it is run on the gasoline that's being tested, and the amount of "knock" is noted as it is shown on the meter.

Next, the motor is run on a special fuel—a mixture of heptane, which knocks violently, and octane, which doesn't knock at all. Different percentages of octane and heptane are used, until the mixture shows the same "knock" on the meter that the gasoline showed, and the percentage of octane in this final mixture is the "octane number" of the gasoline.

Pelts Taken by Badger Trappers Total 298,122

Estimate Value at $500,000, Conservation Chief Says

Madison—(P)—A tabulation of reports submitted by licensed trappers for the year ending June 1, 1932, indicates that legal fur trapping in Wisconsin is nearly a $500,000 business even in a year of depression, Paul D. Kelleter, conservation commission director, announced today.

The tabulation shows that about half of the 17,350 licensed trappers last year took 298,122 pelts of 11 species of fur bearing animals which had a sale value of $217,897.67.

The species taken were:

Species	Number	Value
Mink	233,500	$118,181.85
Skunk	11,536	44,261.16
Weasel	28,624	33,475.33
Raccoon	20,553	7,844.91
Fox	1,979	7,785.11
Otter	801	2,216.34
Wolf	170	1,689.85
Badger	414	1,487.60
Opposum	203	784.70
Wildcat	292	103.98
Jefferson	50	87.04

Jefferson-co led in the value of furs taken with $9,507.11. Dane-co was second with $8,492.66 and Green Lake was third with $7,603.77. Dodge-co was fourth with $7,113.73 while Milwaukee-co trailed all others with a pelt value of $412.93.

The counties which led in the taking of pelts during the year are, in consecutive order as follows:

Muskrats—Jefferson, 16,026 pelts; Green Lake, 10,132; Dane 9,387. Mink—Dodge 585; Sauk 422; Dane 389. Raccoon—Folk 119; Dane 92; Buffalo 78. Weasels—Sauk 1,453; Price 1,444; Bayfield 1,402. Skunk—Grant 1,703; Dodge 1,227; Dane 1,140. Fox—Grant 96; Buffalo and Templealeau 82. Wolves—Iron 72; Langlade 36; Florence 34. Otter—Sauk 17; Marinette 16; Douglas 14. Badgers—Trempealeau 13; St. Croix 11; Dunn, nine. Opposum—Walworth 110; Rock 32; Grant 38. Wildcat—Ashland 12; Iron 10; Sauk, seven.

The statistical information represents the catch reported by 9,412 trappers, of whom 734 did not trap or did not take pelts. Most of the trapping licenses are held by farm boys and most of the total value of furs taken last year went to them. The larger individual returns, however, are those of professional trappers.

Badger Scientist to "Listen" to Eclipse

Westbrook, Me.—(P)—Dr. Edwin B. Frost of Williams Bay, Wis., who arrived yesterday for the solar eclipse Aug. 31, alone among the scores of scientists gathered for the spectacle, plans to collect his data with his ears.

You just can't help putting on firm healthy flesh when you take mentha pepsin with your meals—a table-spoonful.

A man in Oklahoma—he's cashier in a bank—gained 19 pounds by doing it and won a salary raise. Got "renewed vigor," he says. Mentha pepsin acts like gastric juice to draw out all the good of what you eat, so you don't have to stuff on heavy, greasy foods. Simply eat what you like and let mentha pepsin do the rest.

"I was troubled with pimples that affected my face. They were large, sore and very hard. Before the pimples came to a head they itched so bad that I scratched them, and when they broke I could hardly stand the burning feeling. Some of them festered and then scaled off. WELCOME ELKS

Appleton people this week again have the opportunity to demonstrate that hospitality for which they are noted as they entertain the Wisconsin Elks association meeting here for its thirtieth annual convention. Decorated streets and buildings are symbols of this hospitality but its depth is measured by the friendliness with which we greet the strangers within our gates.

Appleton has a particularly soft spot in its heart for the Elks. Since its inception more than 36 years ago, the lodge has had an important part in our civic and fraternal life and almost all our civic and commercial leaders have had their names on its roster. Preaching the brotherhood of man, it has exemplified its teachings in practical if unostentatious charity and there is many a man and woman and child in our community whose heart beats in gratitude for the help received from the Elks.

No one acquainted with the history and the purposes of the Elks can have anything but admiration for the order. Founded as a social club to relieve the boredom of men away from home, it has developed into a far-flung organization with tremendous influence for good citizenship and practical brotherhood. In times of stress, such as these, when comradeship and brotherly support is most essential, the organization functions at its best. Ever ready to forget and forgive the faults of mankind, it stands ready to give the helping hand and to promote that fraternalism that makes all men brothers.

It is therefore with real pleasure that Appleton welcomes Wisconsin Elks. It hopes that their visit here will be pleasurable and profitable and that they will hope to come back here again in the not-distant future.

STABBING ART

In 1889 Millet painted "The Angelus," a calm picture of a placid peasant and his equally placid wife standing at prayer in the middle of a field and in the midst of their toil. Millet simply put on canvas what he saw nearly every day in season all about him.

He received $120 for the painting. In 1910 it sold for $150,000, its purchaser then bequeathing it to the Louvre Art Galleries.

But great paintings attract men in different fashions. Perhaps millions have stood before "The Angelus" and received a degree of peaceful rest by gazing upon the honest folk depicted there. But something in that painting aroused the devil in Pierre Guillard who took out his jack-knife and slashed at it angrily, desperately, as though he were in mortal combat with an octopus. Twenty times he stabbed it. Somehow it provoked him beyond his capacity to withstand provocation. Now he says he wanted to call the world's attention to his unemployment. He did.

Great works of art are carefully guarded because of a tendency to despoil them. What is it about them that incites men at times to hatred and revulsion? Is it their age? The fact that they depict scenes never to be precisely duplicated? Because immense values have been placed upon them as museum pieces?

Two of Rembrandt's great paintings in the Ryks Museum in Amsterdam have been attacked and mutilated. Paintings of other artists have been slashed with razors or hacked at with hatchets. The irreparable Portland Vase in the British Museum was dashed from its pedestal and shattered into pieces by a crank.

Fortunately the precedent set by May Richardson, a suffragist, as a protest against the jailing of another suffragist, has not been generally followed. She pulled a hatchet from her muff and buried it in a painting on the walls of the London national gallery.

When art is attacked as a political protest, art won't last very long.

MILWAUKEE RAIDS

Spanish-American war veterans who are complaining so bitterly because their Milwaukee convention was jimmied by prohibition agents in the effort to make them look like a bunch of outlaws, upon reflection, we feel sure, will realize that they are in the wrong.

They are mistaking the genius of this republic. They are blind to the moving spirit of the entire prohibition movement. They might have had their beer without a raid were it not that their convention presented the opportunity for a spectacular exhibition of authority upon the part of the raiders. What, indeed, is the use of having authority if one cannot show it off in public? So a few places around headquarters are raided and the other 3,000 in the town go unmolested.

The veterans made another mistake. They slapped pals' backs and laughed. Laughter to a real prohibitionist causes a paroxysm of pain never yet reached in toothache or locomotor ataxia.

Then, besides, the veterans sang, yes, actually sang songs like "Goodbye, My Bluebell," and other ditties of the days of their youth when they were in camps and on sun-burned fields, if they weren't in hospitals. Nothing so enrages a professional dry as a song. Could there be anything so ribald and degrading as singing?

The spirit of the witchburners broods over us. It ruled the raids at Milwaukee.

"THE BIG FELLOWS"

The publication of the list of banks in Wisconsin that received loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to August 1 has been a terrible blow to Senator Blaine.

And yet there isn't anything out of line in Mr. Blaine's present campaign of misrepresentation. His misstatements concerning the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and its purpose to help "the big fellow," "the big banks," he will probably continue to make from every platform in the state.

Let us look over some of the loans: We find that the bank of Athens borrowed $37,000. Ever hear of Athens? It isn't Athens over in Greece. It's a little village in Marathon County holding 940 people with a bank probably owned by a hundred farmers and containing the accounts of a thousand more.

Shameless the way our federal government is helping these "big fellows."

A bank in Centuria over in Polk County, population 358, received $20,000. A bank in Coon Valley, Vernon County, population 369, wanted and got $100,000. One at Grafton, Ozaukee County, population 898, received $20,000. The bank in Linden down near the Iowa border, population 490, received $16,500. The bank in Neosha, Dodge County, population 296, received $16,000. The one in the village of Rewey, population 324, received $20,000. Up at Star Prairie, population 413, the bank borrowed $12,000. At Sun Prairie, population 1,236, there was a loan of $40,000. Ever hear of these places? No? They are big places just like New York and with a Wall street of their own. Probably their only street.

They are all incorporated villages but there were loans to banks at Brule, Potter, Woodford and many other places, so small the inhabitants have never incorporated them.

And there were loans to bigger banks at Fond du Lac, Hurley, Kenosha, Kiel, Milwaukee, Mishicot, Rhinelander, Two Rivers, West Bend, Wauwatosa and, bless our souls, a $100,000 loan to the Security State Bank of Madison, right down where the state treasury exists. All of these banks are owned by the people of Wisconsin. The stock is widely distributed, as is the stock of our own local banks. It is owned by farmers, tradesmen, workers, professional men.

The banks are probably all sound. Certainly they could not have received these loans unless they deposited sound collateral with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The bank stockholders may have been saved the loss of everything and the depositors the inconvenience of closed institutions by this highly constructive measure which Mr. Blaine parades around the state as an aid to the "big fellows."

Some day we will have to define the word senator and if the people of the United States continue to elect Blaines it won't have a very pretty definition.

Opinions Of Others

IT DOESN'T PAY TO EXPLOIT VICIOUSNESS AND DEPRAVITY

Several newspapers of the type called tabloid, notably one in New York City, because of its sightless eye of existence might have been supposed well established, have gone out of business. Though many newspapers using this form have been established differing widely in their aims and methods of presenting news matter, all have suffered from the unsavory reputation of a few and mortality among them has been high.

Theoretically it would seem that the small newspaper would have its uses. For reading under certain conditions it is more convenient. But in American journalism tabloidism made the fatal mistake of undertaking the office of interpreter for the jazz age. It attempted to capitalize the abnormalities of taste which characterized the period of hysteria accompanying and following the war.

A writer in Editor and Publisher, commenting upon tendencies in the journalistic profession, says, "The idea that the lower a newspaper could descend in the social scale the greater would be its popularity and profit had some powerful backers in the days when money was easy and living loose, but it seems to have been knocked into a cocked hat by a couple of years of sobering hard times."

Rather, perhaps, let it be hoped that tabloid fatalities represent a permanent victory for resumption of sanity and good sense and good taste. At any rate, the conclusion is not to be escaped that sound business interests, upon whose support as advertisers the prosperity of newspapers largely depends, have turned thumb down upon those sheets which exploit sensation, viciousness and depravity—Detroit News.

It is estimated that more than one-third of all the Federal and state prisons in the United States were constructed before the Civil War.

NOW THEY'RE doing it with families... this trans-Atlantic flying stuff... just today, three planes, including the one from Oshkosh, started out for Europe... one of them was carrying a family of four... pretty soon, the more sophisticated aviators will be those who did NOT try to fly to Europe... well, as one pilot remarked to us once, he'd rather be the OLDEST pilot in the country than the best...

Although Jimmy Doolittle, who came down alive even though his retractable landing gear went haywire the other day, is almost getting to the point where he deserves both titles.

Today was Dollar Day. We hope you had fun with your dollar.

It's been pointed out that if the United States adopts a five-day week, people will only be out of work five days instead of six.

Which brings to mind the venerable old story of the Scotchman who wrote an insignificant letter to the officials of a traction company when they REDUCED the rates.

Said the Scot—"Before you reduced the rates, I could save seven cents every morning by walking to work. Now I can save only five."

The bank bandits are taking a new attitude on their business. Recently, they held up a bank in Arkansas and took along not only the money, but the cashier. Evidently they wanted someone who could make an accurate count of the cash.

Why is it when the weather gets hotter all of a sudden that the boss finds more work for you to do?

One of the most outstanding novelists in the world just now we hear, is Julian Green. He is, moreover, completely an American. Of course, he was born in Paris, educated in France, except for two years in an American college and writes his novels in French—letting someone else translate them for him, but he's an American. Sure. His parents were, anyway.

Now that Charlie Grimm's Cubs are well up in front in the National League pennant chase, Charlie has been signed to manage the outfit for next year. Of course, nobody can tell what might happen to Charlie if the Cubs should slip out of first place by that time.

And three weeks from today, football practice begins at most of the colleges.

Just Folks

THE LITTLE MOTHER

The little mother sang her songs
And didn't seem to care
About the countless wrongs
That pressed upon her there.
She never seemed to mind the pain
Her headless children wrought,
But told again, again, again
How much of us she thought.

She sewed our little buttons fast
And darned our stockings, too,
Although the mending wouldn't last,
She positively knew.
She didn't seem to mind at all
Her endless round of toil
Or fret o'er pleasures, great and small,
Which little children spoil.

Her lullabies she'd sing,
Nor think it worth her while to weep
About some shattered thing.
The pain we caused, the needless care,
Till she was called above,
Were burdens she was glad to bear,
So great is mother love!

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, Aug. 24, 1922
The wedding of Miss Loraine Brill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brill, Lawrence-st., to Frank Schimpf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schimpf, Sr., Maple-st., took place the same morning at St. Joseph church. The couple was attended by the twin sisters of the bridegroom, the Misses Anna and Elizabeth Schimpf, and Edward Brill and George Weintraub.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dickinson entertained friends at a dinner Wednesday evening at Riverview Country Club.
Miss Floret Zuehlke, Miss Cora Guenther and Mrs. Robert Scholl, selected previously as members of the election board of the second precinct of the third ward, had the distinction of being the first women to serve on any election board in Appleton.

Mrs. H. W. Meyer, Jr., entertained friends of Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Chicago in her home, 707 Morrison-st., the night previous.
Mrs. Thomas Byrne, Eighth-st., entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner the previous evening in her home for her nieces, the Misses Catherine and Margaret McMahon of Fort Smith, Ark.

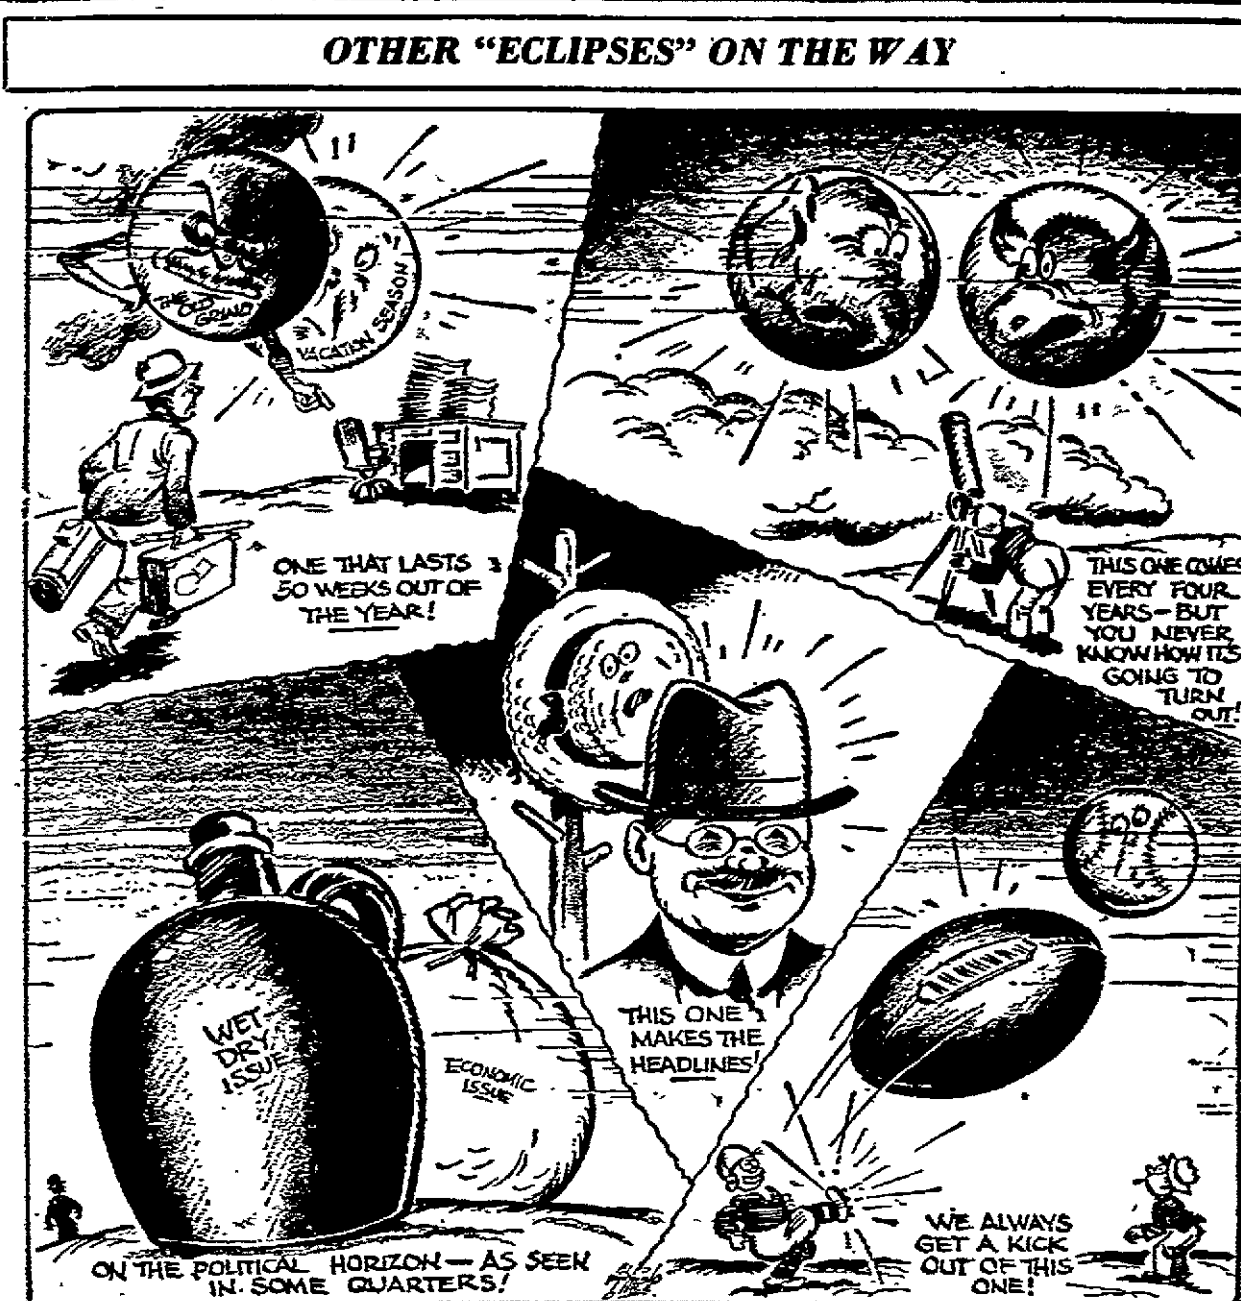

Mrs. C. L. Marston entertained at a bridge luncheon the day before at Riverview Country Club.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 29, 1907
The Rev. F. T. Rouse, pastor of the Congregational church resigned previous to this day when a meeting was called to vote on extending a call to Dr. John Faville of Peoria, Ill., to resume the Appleton pastorate.

John Conway and Anton Riger, hotel keepers from here were planning to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin Hotelmen's association in Green Bay the following month. Rufus Lowell, John Baer and Miss Julia Wood attended the social gathering at Ridge Point the previous day held in honor of Miss Amanda Hawes, Milwaukee, formerly of Appleton.

A terrific explosion the same day occurred in the two-story brick building in Chilton demolishing the building owned by James Millay and occupied by him as a grocery.

Personal Health Talks

WHAT TO DO ABOUT SNAKE BITES

Everybody should study snakes. At the zoo, in their natural habitat or elsewhere, at least enough to be able to tell at sight whether a snake is venomous or harmless to man. There still prevails among people who fondly imagine themselves intelligent a good deal of silly superstition and childish credulity in regard to snakes, and this leads to much cruelty to the common harmless snakes and wanton destruction of some of the larger snakes that are friends of man and, indeed, often prized household pets. People who know snakes sometimes speak of them as "beautiful," but people who are ignorant cannot comprehend this, for to their benighted consciousness all snakes are ugly creatures.

While copperheads and moccasins occur in this country and occasionally bite in the great majority of cases of bite by venomous snake one or another kind of rattlesnake inflicts the wound.

Rattlesnakes are unable to strike higher than the middle of the calf of a person standing or walking. So it is a good plan to wear stout leather leggings or heavy shoes that lace half way up the leg when you are working or playing or hiking or touring in country where, indeed, snakes live. They are fond of rocky slopes where sunny ledges are numerous.

The best first aid treatment for bites is as follows:
1. Immediate criss-cross incision of the fang mark or both marks if both fangs have penetrated the skin. These incisions should be merely skin deep (not more than 1/2 inch deep) and not more than 1 inch long. Razor blade, knife or other sharp implement, or even a piece of broken glass, will make the incisions.

2. Immediate suction of the flesh wounds, to draw as much blood and venom out as you can. Continue this suction for twenty minutes. If there is no abrasion of lips or mouth there is no danger to the person who sucks the wound.

3. Immediate application of a tourniquet to the limb above the wound. Twisted handkerchief or other loose loop of cloth or rope around limb, and a stick to twist it tight enough to shut off circulation. This must be entirely loosened for half a minute every five minutes, to prevent gangrene from lack of circulation.

4. The patient must avoid all exertion, such as running.

5. Other than the immediate incision and suction, no further local treatment is of any use, except of course, to keep the wound protected as well as possible against ordinary infection, as in any case of open wound.

6. In a first aid package of antivenin is at hand, inject it under the skin a few inches above the wound. Antivenin is injected, remove the tourniquet for the purpose is to allow the antidote to circulate through the body. Remember, no tourniquet after anti-venin is injected. But the incision and suction of the wound should be done in every case, no matter whether antivenin is used.

7. Never give or permit given alcohol in any form. The only effect of alcohol is to favor the perfunctory of the system with the venom.

8. Probably adrenalin is the best of all stimulants against the lethal depression produced by snake venom. It is best administered by hypodermic or intravenous injection, but there are tablets of adrenalin for administration by mouth. Strychnin is a good stimulant in such poisoning, and the emergency kit may contain strychnin, too. Hot coffee is perhaps the best of all vital stimulants, or even hot tea, for the emergency.

Where the antivenin is administered within an hour after the bite a quick cure is almost invariably obtained. It is a great antidote even if the dose is administered only after the lapse of half a day. Of course the sooner the better. That is the reason why a package of antivenin should be in the emergency kit ready for emergency.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cheese It
We are found of macaroni cooked with cheese. Is this dish nourishing enough for working people? Is the cheese cooked in this way constipating? (Mrs. M. T. R.)
Answer—It is nourishing enough for anybody. Cheese is not constipating; it is just so completely digested and leaves so little residue, that it is not so laxative as coarse vegetables, for instance.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

THE Tynmites laughed aloud to see how cute a little monk could be. The one that pulled we Duncy in the cart was jumping round.
"Hey! Please go straight," scared Duncy cried. "I do not want a thrilling ride. If you keep racing here and there, 'twill flip me to the ground."
Then Scouty cried, "I have a hunch there's room enough for all this bunch. Please stop the monkey, Duncy, and we'll climb in by your side."

"Perhaps the monk will then go slow. 'Twill be a real good load, you know." "All right! I'm game, if all of you are willing," Duncy cried.

Then to the monkey he yelled, "Whoa!" The monk, however, didn't know that that meant stop, so on it went, much faster than before.
Poor Duncy! He was holding tight and trusting things would end all right. "Let's catch the monkey," Windy cried. And after it they tore.

Scouty Coppy grabbed it by the tail and, my, but it let out a wall. "Come help me," shouted Coppy. "I don't want to injure it!"
The others grabbed it by the paws and all turned out all right because the monkey stood still among the clams when business is not rushing.

When they all were inside the cart, kind Coppy said, "Now start!" And for a half an hour they had an interesting ride.
Then Duncy said, "Once more I'll try to drive alone. I'm sure that I can handle it all right this time." The others left his side.

The plan, however, brought a scare because the monk began to sweat. While it was going very fast a monkey cop stepped out.
The cop exclaimed, "Hey! Too much speed! A trip to court is what you need. You'll have to pay a fine before we let you go, no doubt."

PERFECTS COLD LIGHT

Paris, France — George Claude, French inventor, is known generally for his efforts to extract power from the sea at Matanzas, Cuba. Few people know that he is the inventor of the widely used neon advertising light. His latest discovery is a new cold light which is never daylight than anything yet discovered. This light is produced in a tube containing a mixture of rare gases through which an electric current passes. Claude claims it can be produced cheaper than electric light.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY WILLIAM GAINES

New York—Persons who mark their names or draw pictures on walls are destined to scratch in vain against the walls of the stations on the new Eighth avenue subway.

After much experimentation, a tile finish was devised which, it is believed, will resist the scratching and scorching of vandals.

Keeping subway station walls clean is just one of the thousand small items which have run up the expenditures of the old transit systems to astounding proportions.

Another interesting thing about the stations on the new line is the plan to help those who can't read in finding their way about by means of a color scheme.

A Patagonian at large in New York, for instance, might not be able to read the street signs in the station nearest to Washington Square in Greenwich Village.

But the color, green is recognizable to most any person who is not color blind, no matter what his lingo. If he can associate that color with the Greenwich Village station, he is bound to notice that the tiled signs are in green. At Columbus Circle, blue will be used; at Pennsylvania station, red, and yellow in Old Chelsea.

What will happen to a passenger who not only cannot read, but is color blind as well, I don't know.

The Breaks—They Got 'Em
A. C. Blumenthal quit the University of Southern California after two years, to take a job as an office boy. Now look at 'im.

George Price was singing in pool rooms at the kindergarten age. If he had gone to kindergarten instead, what would have become of him?

Lou Holtz stopped high school to go to work. But he didn't like work very much, so he took a chance on the stage by way of an amateur night try-out.

Holtz drifted along until his name went up in lights and he was drawing a couple of thousand a week, but other than that he hadn't done so well. He'd been seeking his money away in stocks, hoping he might be rich some day.

Then the crash came and pretty nearly wiped out Mr. Holtz, so he went to work very seriously on the stage. As a result, he's much in demand. Thus Holtz was one of the few men to get ahead on the strength of the stock market collapse.

Town Characters
Jimmy the Clam Man is a character well known to Greenwich Villagers and the Italians south of Washington Square. His cart is always parked at the corner of Bleecker and Sullivan streets, where Jimmy dozes with his head among the clams when business is not rushing.

He sells his clams two for a nickel, which includes "service." He has a couple of plates, bottles of sauce, and lemons at hand, and the natives stand up and eat 'em right off of the cart. Oh, yes, and Jimmy opens the clams for his customers, too.

A fortune teller who has been "making" the mid-town sections recently carries a parrot, and suggests that you let the bird tell your fortune for a nickel. Naturally, many "bites," expecting to hear the cart talk. Indeed, Pol has been trained to open the drawer of a cabinet carried by the greasy sooth-sayer, take out a printed card and hold it in his bill until you take it from him.

After it is all over, Pol makes a raucous noise that sounds very like a horse laugh.

Despite the happening at Geneva, it seems as if there will be no wars in the future. Nations have at last learned how to break each other without fighting.

The Senate committee's expose of Wall Street manipulations is certainly having its effect. Not even the fish are biting this year.

One glance at the two vice presidential candidates shows that the old game of cowboy and Indian is about to be revived.

Germany was rapidly losing the ground gained at the cost of many thousands of lives in the five great offensives of the earlier part of the year.

General Horvath attempted to gain control of all anti-Soviet forces in the Far East by a coup d'etat, but was foiled by the Allies.

A Canadian steamer Eric was sunk by shell fire, presumably from a German submarine, off Miquelon Island. Five members of the crew were wounded.

No wonder Mussolini is so popular in Italy. At a recent gathering he served his followers with bologna. All we ever get over here is bologna.

Today's Anniversary

BY HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington—The subject of the distribution of ability in the United States long has been one to interest scientifically-inclined individuals, especially as regards statesmanship. The late Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, as far back as 1891, made observations on the subject. At that time, in a published article in a nationally known magazine, Lodge estimated that in statesmen Virginia led, with Massachusetts, New York and Connecticut closely following. He was also of the opinion that as to nationality, the Scotch-Irish and Scotch led in statesmen.

In the capital at the present tucked away in a nook in the research section of the Library of Congress, is a man who styles himself a legislative anthropologist—Dr. Arthur Macdonald, formerly a fellow at Johns Hopkins university. He recently has completed a study of the senate—an historical-anthropological study, he calls it—in which he reveals some curious facts.

Stuffed Normal Senate
Dr. Macdonald took the senate of the 62nd congress for dissection, because... it might be called a normal senate. The majority party had been in power for a long while, and the senate had settled down to what might be called the regular order."

Here are some of the things he found:
Republican "progressives" show up at times when legislation is being voted upon more often than the conservative republicans.
Senators who are business men have a higher percentage of attendance at quorum calls than those who are professional men, but a lower percentage at roll call votes than professional men.

Progressives Talk Most
The progressive republicans held the highest average (250) in frequency of remarks on the floor, the conservative republicans second with 167, and the democrats with a still lower average of 138.

Chairmen of important committees show the highest percentage of attendance at quorum calls.

Frequency of remarks on the floor increases as the degree of education increases. The average for university men is 233, for college men 147, and senators with common school education 137.

A Bystander In Washington

BRITISH VICTORIES

On Aug. 25, 1918, British troops swept through German opposition north of the Somme and reached a point within a mile of the old Hindenburg line, after taking nine towns and thousands of prisoners.

French forces operating in the salient created by the March offensive of the Germans continued their gains, storming important positions during a day of intense fighting.

Germany was rapidly losing the ground gained at the cost of many thousands of lives in the five great offensives of the earlier part of the year.

General Horvath attempted to gain control of all anti-Soviet forces in the Far East by a coup d'etat, but was foiled by the Allies.

Groups Will Plan Study For Schools

New Proposal Made by County Superintendent At Teachers Institute

A new plan for developing the course of study for Outagamie-county rural schools was proposed by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, at the opening session of the rural teacher's institute at the courthouse this morning. There are more than 125 rural teachers in attendance at the conference, which will last through Friday afternoon.

The idea of the new plan, according to Mr. Meating, who made the suggestion in his address outlining the purpose of the institute, is to give the teachers a greater share in planning the subjects to be taught, than has been customary. The county will be divided into eight planning groups. Each group will be headed by a chairman, whose duty it will be to get together the teachers of that group and outline in detail the work that is to be presented during each six weeks' period.

Work of the committee will then be presented to Mr. Meating, who with the two supervising teachers, Miss Nellie McDermott and A. L. Collar, will edit the plans. These will then be mimeographed and copies will be sent to each teacher in the county. They, in turn, will follow these plans.

"It is hoped," Mr. Meating said, "by this plan to regulate more carefully the amount of work to be covered by each grade and to give the teachers a more thorough understanding of the requirements of the new goal sheets developed for Outagamie-county last year."

These goal sheets enable teachers, pupils and parents to know at a glance just what progress the pupils are making with the work which must be done in the course they are studying.

Outline Districts

Following are the groupings for the eight districts with the name of the chairman of each:

Group 1, towns of Deer Creek, Maple Creek and Bovina, Miss Muriel Buchholz, chairman.

Group 2, towns of Maine and Cicero, Miss Grace Prentice, teacher.

Group 3, towns of Seymour and Osborn and the north half of Oneida, Miss Corinne Ottman, chairman.

Group 4, towns of Bovina and Black Creek, Miss Arline Puls, chairman.

Group 5, towns of Center and Elington, Miss Helen Totzke, chairman.

Group 6, towns of Dale and Horton, Miss Evelyn Sweeney, chairman.

Group 7, towns of Freedom, Kaukauna, Buchanan and Vandebrook, W. P. Hagman, principal of the Outagamie County School.

Pays Old Bill but Has Friend Hold Up

Cashier of Company

Gary, Ind. — (AP) — Charles Rodgers believes in paying old bills.

But that's not all he believes in, if the police version of his activities is correct.

He paid a bill of $135 of three years' standing to the new Chicago Lumber company in New Chicago, a suburb.

Twenty minutes later someone held up the cashier but found only $35 in the cash box.

The police arrested Rodgers. They said he confessed and implicated his friend, Ted Lar Lar, who was accused of being the man who called on the cashier.

The other $100 had been banked, the police said, before the holdup occurred.

World Peace Plan Offers No Remedy For China—Claim

Japanese Baron Says Country Will Recognize New Manchurian State

Tokyo — (AP) — Outlining her foreign policy, Japan today declared the world's peace machinery offered no remedy for "the chaotic condition of China," and announced formally her intention to recognize the new Manchurian state, Manchukuo, in the near future.

The declaration was made by Baron Yasuya Uchida, the foreign minister, before an extraordinary session of the house of peers, and its text was cabled to many foreign capitals for distribution.

Formal recognition of Manchukuo, the foreign minister said, was "the only means of stabilizing conditions in Manchuria and establishing permanent peace in the far east."

"There are those in other countries," Uchida went on, "who do not fully comprehend the attitude of Japan toward China nor the measures she has taken . . ."

"It is an indisputable fact that the chaotic condition of China and the so-called revolutionary policy carried on by China under the extraneous influence of extravagant political dogmas have been principally responsible for the unfortunate turn that international relations have taken of recent years in the far east. . . ."

"It is admitted by those conversant with actual conditions in China that no remedy can be effected by having recourse either to the covenant of the League of Nations or to any other organ of what may be termed 'machinery of peace.'"

"In fact it has been the practice of the powers, as has been demonstrated on innumerable occasions, to repair or prevent injuries to their important rights and interests in China by direct application of force without relying upon those instruments of peace. . . ."

Great significance was attached to the baron's address in view of recent pronouncements from the Washington administration that the United States would not recognize territorial changes wrought through violations of the Kellogg-Brand and other peace treaties. Japan has interpreted these as an attack on her course in Manchuria.

Find 18 Human Skeletons In Cellar of Farm Home

Scotts Bluffs, Neb.—Eighteen skeletons, apparently those of Indians buried 200 years or more ago, have been found in a potato cellar excavation on the Henry Bisterfeldt farm southwest of here and near the Scotts Bluff National monument and the Old Oregon trail. All were buried closely in pairs and some were in a sitting posture. Two sea shell ornaments and a small polished stone were among them. Many of the bones crumbled on exposure to the air, and digging was halted pending arrival of University of Nebraska experts.

Woman "Red" to Open Reichstag Despite Nazis

It May Cause Disorder, but Old Clara Zetkin Is Shifty

BY MILTON BRONNER
London — Just as the stormy petrel enjoys the roar of the tempest, so it is probable that in the last week of August, when the newly-elected German Reichstag meets for the first time, that old fire-brand, Clara Zetkin, will glory in the exultant cheers of her friends and the bellowed attacks of her enemies.

There is a quaint custom in Germany that when a newly-elected Reichstag meets, it shall be presided over by its oldest member, until a permanent presiding officer has been chosen. "Oldest" does not mean in point of service in the Reichstag, but in actual years the member has lived.

Now by one of those strange ironies of fate that sometimes happen in real life, as well as in fiction, Clara Zetkin, the Communist, is the oldest in a body in which the Nazis have the largest membership. And the Nazis love the Reds not at all.

There is even the chance that they may be hatching some plot to kidnap the old woman or bar her way to the Reichstag building, so she cannot preside. A key to their feelings is the editorial of the Nazi Berlin paper Angriff which protests against putting this shame on the German people that a Jewess, who lives in Moscow and acts on the orders of Moscow, should open the Reichstag.

May Cause Disorder
If old Clara, who is shifty on her feet and indomitable in her spirit, succeeds in eluding the Nazis and trying to take her seat as temporary presiding officer, there will be a merry ballyhoo. The Communists will receive her with glad war-whoops. The Socialists and Catholic Centre, who do not love the Reds, will probably sit in stony silence. The Nationalists will do some protesting. But the Nazis will likely stage a riot. Two little things like the fact that she has attained the venerable age of 75 and that she is a woman may not deter them. For she is to them everything that is anathema.

Shte was born in Wiederau, Saxony in 1857 and started out in life as a teacher. In Paris she met and married a Russian Socialist, Ossip Zetkin, who converted her to his political and economical theories. She returned to Germany, settled in Stuttgart, edited a Socialist paper, organized Socialist propaganda among the working women and sat in the legislature of Wurtemberg as an independent Socialist. She left the Socialists in 1916 and became a Red and as such has sat in the Reichstag since 1920.

High In Red Ranks
In 1924 and again in 1926 she was elected a member of the presidium of the Communist International, having as companions

Stalin, Trotsky, Zinoviev and Thaelmann, who has several times run as Communist candidate for German president. In 1921 the French Communists held their annual meeting at Tours to decide whether to adhere to an international that comprised Germans. Clara announced her intention of coming to address them. The French government vowed she would not be allowed to put foot on French soil.

But the old lady got there somehow, the doors of the meeting hall were locked while she spoke and carried the body with her, and then she slipped out of France as mysteriously as she had entered.

Arrested By French
In 1923, when French troops were occupying the great German manufacturing city of Essen in the Ruhr, Clara declared she was going there to address the Reds. She was promptly arrested under a French decree, forbidding the entry of German Reichstag members in the occupied territory. But they released her and she addressed the meeting. Since then she has spent most of her time in Moscow, although continuously returned to the German Reichstag by her constituency. In 1925, during the debate on the Locarno pact, she suddenly left Moscow, arrived in Berlin, went straight to the parliament building and spoke bitterly against the pact for a half hour, until she fainted from exhaustion. There's plenty of fire and iron in the old woman and if she does come to Berlin from Moscow, the Nazis will have their work cut out for them.

Washington — Secretary Adams said yesterday the marine band played at the Hoover notification ceremonies because it was the duty of the band to appear on any occasion at which the chief executive was present.

Replying to a protest by Joseph N. Weber, president of the American Federation of Musicians, of New York, that use of the band was illegal and deprived civilians of employment, the secretary wrote.

"The marine band is obviously organized for the purpose of playing on some occasions. It has always been held that it was the duty of this band to play whenever the president was present, whether or not the occasion was official."

"I know of no word of law or of opinion of congress which limits the marine band to play only when the president is 'officially present' as you contend."

He contended Mr. Hoover was not present at the notification ceremonies as president of the United States, but as the nominee of a political party.

Parents' Help Asked to Keep Pool Sanitary

Children Must be Educated, Park Board Points Out

Neenah—As the result of complaints by the ward residents relative to the cleanliness and sanitation of the cement wading pool at Doty park, registered at a meeting of the park board this week, a statement was issued by park officials today, appealing for the cooperation of parents in educating the children to maintain the pool in a sanitary manner.

The pool has been emptied and swept out every other day since it was filled early in the summer, the statement revealed, and after investigation it is the conviction of the park board that parents of the children are the only ones who can control the situation.

It should be explained to the little children that they should utilize the nearby toilet facilities and the older as well as the younger children should be taught not to throw dirt, apple cores and decayed fruit into the pool, it is pointed out. Bicycles and cars should not be taken into the pool.

The board has arranged to spray the surface of the concrete with copper sulphate solution which will remove the slippery, russet colored fungus growth which forms on the bottom of all cement pools.

Quality of Flower Will be Judged on 30-Point Basis

Menasha—The judging score for the Menasha Garden club's third annual flower show at the Memorial building Saturday and Sunday has been announced by Mrs. Ida Watkins, president.

A number of suggestions on cutting and arranging flowers for the show have been made by the committee on entries.

"Flowers should be cut after sundown on the evening before they are to be exhibited or very early in the morning of the day of the show. Leave some foliage on the stems and cut the stems as long as possible. Flowers should then be placed in a deep container of cold water and put in a dark cool basement. Carry a pail of cold water with you as you cut the flowers and drop them in the water immediately. Arrange in suitable vases, bowls or baskets on the morning of the show. No withered or brown petals should be left on flowers."

Evangelical Cleric Says Eighteenth Amendment Will Be Retained

Special to Post-Crescent
"The Eighteenth Amendment," by Bishop Emeritus S. P. Spreng of Naperville, Ill., attracted an audience of nearly 500 persons to the Wednesday afternoon session of an Appleton district Evangelical church assembly here. Divesting his subject of all semblance of a party issue, the 79 year old bishop, who for 25 years was a vice-president of the National Anti-Saloon league, spoke for an hour on what he termed a question of intense interest, not only to the nation, but to the world.

Aware of the fact that he was addressing a Wisconsin audience where the state enforcement law had already been repealed, Bishop Spreng, nevertheless, held his audience as a friendly group of Evangelical church members, whose every quadrennial general conference since 1839 had reiterated its opposition to the manufacture, purchase, sale and use of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

"If ever anything was deliberately done by the American people," the bishop said, "it was the placing of the eighteenth amendment into the constitution." He traced the 100 years of agitation, of pledge signing, the educational campaigns of the temperance organizations, the restrictive legislation, local option, and the success of the amendment in the face of the conflict with the growing liquor traffic on one side and its victims on the other, until public sentiment culminated in the ratification of the eighteenth amendment almost unanimously by 46 out of 48 states.

From personal observations in Chicago, 30 miles from his Illinois home, as well as from observations of other authorities, Bishop Spreng denied the popular assertion that prohibition had increased drinking, and said that if drinking had really increased under the eighteenth amendment, the wet interests would not advocate its repeal, but would be satisfied to leave well enough alone. In support of the virtue of abstinence, he cited the testimony of great athletic coaches as the late Knute Rockne and "Hurricane" Yost, who demanded sobriety in their men.

Bishop Spreng does not believe that the eighteenth amendment will be repealed since only 13 states can prevent it. He quoted from the republican party platform that "the American nation never in its history has gone backward." While lauding the present administration in its law enforcement efforts, he questioned the wisdom of the "state rights" theory advanced by President Hoover in his recent acceptance speech. "That," he said, "would mean the return to local option, which failed; and it was the doctrine of state sovereignty which strengthened the cause of human slavery and brought on the Civil war."

Nor does the bishop believe in the theory that intoxicating liquor can be restored without a revival of the saloon. "Call a rose by some other name," he said, "and it will smell just as sweet. And call a saloon by some other name, and it will be the same obnoxious place."

The address concluded with an expression of faith in the United States government and an appeal of fairness to the prohibition

Spiering Rites Are Tomorrow at Lutheran Church

Many Clergymen From Surrounding Churches To Attend Services

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—The funeral of the Rev. Adolph Spiering, 69, for more than 30 years pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church in this city, whose death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dorothea Falkenhainer, Des Moines, Ia., will be held here at 2:30 Friday afternoon. The body will arrive in the city Thursday evening and will be taken to the church which the aged clergyman served so long to lie in state until the services.

Clergymen from churches of the territory will act as bearers and assist in the services. All members of the family are expected to be present. These are Mrs. Dorothea Falkenhainer, Des Moines; Mrs. Mathilda Bernhardt, Mrs. Sophia Koch, Mrs. Irmagard Bubeck, Milwaukee; Miss Hildegard Spiering, Newark, N. J.; Walter Spiering of New London and Gerhard Spiering of Manitowoc. Surviving also are one sister, Mrs. Paul Gruhl, Appleton, and Richard Spiering, St. Cloud, Minn.

The Rev. Adolph Spiering was born Oct. 22, 1862, at Spremsburg, province of Brandenburg, Prussia. He was named Gustav Adolph, in memory of the King of Sweden, that great hero of the Lutheran cause. In January, 1932, Mr. Spiering compiled a biography. He recalled the manner in which he received his education begun in "Real Schule" in Spremsburg. He recalled to the years of depression following the German-French war. His father owned a textile factory which burned on one very day that the insurance policy expired. Other affairs in the family brought a crisis following which the family embarked for a new country. They arrived in New York in October, 1874. Follows an amusing story of the first day at school. The family had taken over a 40 acre farm in Grand Chute. Returning to that painful day, Mr. Spiering writes:

"I knew no word of the language of this new country except 'yes,' 'no,' and 'One cent.' Knowing little of farming the father obtained work in the Appleton, Wis., Woolen Mills. Later Mr. Spiering attended Watertown seminary and graduated at 18 years of age. He taught school in Minnesota and later was called to the ministry at Manchester, Wis. Later he taught at Randolph and throughout the parishes of the towns and settlements thereabout.

Got New London Call
In the fall of 1893 the Rev. Spiering received a call from New London. Here were two congregations of different synods. At the time of his coming there was no parsonage or school. These, with a residence for the school teacher, were later built. Later the new church came into being at a cost of $100,000. While having charge of the New London parish the Rev. Spiering also was pastor to the Sugar Bush congregation. Here from a congregation beginning with 11 members meeting in the district schoolhouse, a membership of more than 60 members grew, and a new church was built.

During Mr. Spiering's pastorate here he was elected to serve on the Home Mission board being appointed to the northern portion of the state. In his memoirs Mr. Spiering recalls the logging camps, encounters with Indians and incidents in which his life was in real danger. Later in the capacity as mission board member Mr. Spiering went twice to Alaska later was elected to serve in the Pacific district where he served throughout Washington and Oregon. He served similar districts in Illinois and others of the north central states.

At the division of the synod into districts the Rev. Spiering was elected president of the North Wisconsin district, serving for eight years.

During his pastorate here the Rev. Spiering baptised 1,796, confirmed 1,387, communed approximately 60,000, married 601 couples and buried 659 persons. His marriage to Miss Sophia Schulz, of Milwaukee, took place Sept. 22, 1888. She died in this city in 1927.

Cubs Take 4½ Game Lead as They Beat Brooklyn Dodgers

Billy Herman Tops Winners With 3 Hits

Pirates Score Early but Phillies Stage Comeback and Win

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
VICTORIOUS in their first engagement with Brooklyn's storm troops, the Chicago Cubs dug in behind a four and one-half game lead today and prepared to deal another blow for the cause—a bigger and better world series on the shores of Lake Michigan.

The Dodgers, who invaded the west with high hopes of crashing through the Cubs barrage and again making a race out of the National league, were repulsed in yesterday's encounter, 7 to 4. What was more, they didn't look at all like a team that might ever stop the Chicago pennant drive.

Three of their pitchers, including the brilliant Van Mungo, were pounded for 10 hits, and their fielding was spotty. The Cubs, led by Billy Herman with three rousing hits, made six of their hits good for extra bases and sewed up the game with a four-run drive in the fourth inning. Charley Root, after a wobbly first frame, settled down and held the Dodgers at bay until the seventh, when Bob Smith went in and finished the job.

Bucs Lose to Phils
Pittsburgh failed to take advantage of Brooklyn's reverse, losing to the Phillies, 3 to 6, and remaining in third place. The Pirates started well, scoring six times in the first two innings, but from there on it was a picnic for the slugging Phils.

Dizzy Dean did an admirable job of beating the Giants. The Cards' eccentric star yielded only five hits and drove in four runs with a homerun and a single. Pepper Martin was his little helper, hitting two doubles and a single and stealing a base.

Boston and Cincinnati played a dead heat for the afternoon, the Braves winning the first, 5 to 2, and the Reds squaring matters, 3 to 1, behind Larry Benton's noble pitching.

Jim Levey of the St. Louis Browns pounded a homerun with one on in the eleventh inning to defeat the Athletics, 5 to 3. Homeruns by McNair, Dykes and Fox were the highlights of the game.

Monte Weaver's pitching and Johnny Kerr's timely hitting gave Washington a 2 to 1 verdict over Detroit. Kerr knocked across both the winners' runs as Weaver scored his nineteenth victory.

Lyons Beats Red Sox
Pitcher Ted Lyons scored a personal triumph over the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 3. In addition to keeping nine hits well spaced, the White Sox star drove in three runs with a double and two singles and scored once.

A similar achievement was credited to Charley Ruffing of the Yankees, who racked up his fifteenth victory at the expense of the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 3. He pitched eight-hit ball and starred at bat with a brace of doubles and a single.

IT'S BENNY LEONARD IN TRAINING AGAIN

Winner of a long string of fights since he began his comeback a few months ago, Benny Leonard now prepares for the big test, a battle with Jimmy McLarnin in the Madison Square Garden bowl on Long Island, Oct. 2. The former undefeated lightweight champion is shown above during some of his newest training activities. "Da becca guy" in the circle with Benny is Primo Carnera. Leonard never had the "Tunney taste" for the classics, but he does like to read under a shady tree, as the top picture shows.

Golf Fans Wonder if Gene Will Play in Pro Tourney

ST. PAUL.—(P)—Golf fans tore another leaf from the calendar today and reiterated their question "Will Gene Sarazen be in the P. G. A. tournament Aug. 29 to Sept. 4?"

His astonishing failure to qualify for the annual tournament of the Professional Golfers' association was unexpected by followers of the ancient Scottish pastime.

There is, however, possibility he may be among the field when the cannonading starts over the Keller course's 6,888 yards of fairway, traps, and rough.

Gene captured one of the first alternate places in the qualifying trials after rejecting officials' offer to permit him to enter without qualifying and there is a chance some lesser known pro may step aside and allow Sarazen to play in his place.

Sponsors of the tourney have not overlooked the probable effect Gene's absence would have on the gate. From the spectators' viewpoint, the little Italian pro would, or will be, the chief gun in the field, particularly since he would have an opportunity to make a grand slam in golf.

He has won the British open, the United States open, and should be permitted to enter and ultimately win the P. G. A. title. Gene would have possession of three of golf's major titles in one year.

Nothing would create more interest in the race for the title than to have Sarazen pitted against Walter Hagen when match play gets under way. "The Haig" five times winner of the event, usually finds Sarazen a tartar.

Then too, with Sarazen apparently having one of his best years, the fans would like to see him whip Keller course soundly enough to capture first place. In the last two $10,000 opens here, first money always has eluded him.

Two 18 hole rounds of qualifying play will be played Tuesday, followed by five days of match play with the finals Sept. 4.

Sunday morning at 10:15 the Stars and the Fox River Paper company team will clash at Brandt park. The Fox River is champion of the American softball league. The outteam ball and long bases will be used. Ordinarily the Ponds play the inteam ball and shorter bases.

Coated Paper in Win Over Co. D.; Score Is 4 and 2

American League Managers Will Meet Friday At Y. M. C. A.

National and American softball league teams ended inter-loop strife last night when the Coated Paper Company defeated the Co. D. team 4 and 2 at Roosevelt diamond. The teams won third place in their respective leagues.

Three runs, one each in the last three frames, accounted for the victory. Coated collected 10 hits and had three errors. Co. D. had five hits and four errors. Eggert toiled in the fourth and whiffed four and walked one. Klein was on the mound for the Guards and whiffed four and walked one.

Curagame's Milks, cellar champs in the A. L. will clash with the Browns, cellar champs in the Fraternity league, Friday night at Roosevelt field. The game is being played because there is no eighth team in the National league for the Milks to play.

A meeting of American league managers and officers has been called for 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The annual banquet at Hotel Northern will be discussed and plans made for next year's play.

Reports are that the league may become a ten team loop, several teams having asked for berths. Box score of last night's game:

Legion Juniors Play Saturday

Meet New London Club at Brandt Park; Hope to Erase Old Defeat

The American legion juniors, state legion baseball champions will play another game here Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the many fans who failed to recognize their ability earlier in the year and who therefore did not see them.

The youngsters will clash with New London at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Brandt park. New London is the only team the local club did not defeat and the boys want to erase the mark on their record. The two teams met early in the season with the Stars having an off day and taking a 3 and 2 defeat.

Members of the squad Saturday will be the same boys who went through the regular legion season.

Toledo made it three straight over St. Paul by winning a 6 to 3 decision in eight innings. Rain halted that one also. Roxie Lawson went all the way for Toledo and gave the Saints eight hits. Les Munns and Grady Atkins who did the serving for St. Paul, were nipped for nine hits, most of them off the former, who was clipped for four runs in the first three innings.

Louisville batsmen had another field day against Kansas City pitching, slashing out 16 hits, including four doubles and two triples. For a 10 to 7 victory. It was a battle until the last two innings when three runs were rammed over the Colonels.

Chaff 'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

THE fact that Rogers Hornsby was cast loose by the Cubs was a great break for several major league managers. The magazines promptly signed them to long-term contracts. It still any talk that Hornsby would be the next boss.

Happy With Bill
St. Louis baseball writers saw Hornsby and Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, talking at the ball park. Ah! The news was relayed to the fans garnished with nice black headlines. Phil Ball called in the gentlemen of the press.

"I have just signed Bill Killefer as manager for three more years," said he. The news was carried to the clubhouse on the wings of the wind. The players danced for joy. They were happy to know that Bill would be with them three more years.

The Old Fight
That horse run of Mark Koenig's that won an important ball game for the Cubs in the ninth inning the other day, brought out an important fact, the Cubs are imbued with the old college spirit. When the ancient blind man (meaning Koenig) staggered across home plate with the winning run, a dozen of his mates grabbed him, slapped him on the back, shook his hand and gave the good old Siwash yell. An inspiring spectacle, as well as unusual, for big leaguers.

From Uncle Wilbert
From Dover Hall, Ga., comes a courier bearing from Wilbert Robinson this important message: "I would like the fans of Brooklyn to know that I am pulling for Carey and sincerely wish him success. Max and I always understood each other (and, reading between the lines, that implies it was just too bad the front office and the writer couldn't get along.) I always thought he would make a good manager. That was my idea when I had him as coach. I expected him to succeed me one day and if I had my way he would not have been released as a Brooklyn coach."

Now isn't that just like old Uncle Robbie?

Conceded by the front office, but still rooting for the boys? And hoping that even though such a happening would cast him deeper into the shadow, Flatbush comes through with a pennant in the team's first year without him.

If you had any doubts about the quality of Wilbert Robinson, prepare to shed them now. Uncle Robbie is okay.

Roy Regels, former California football star who ran the wrong way in an annual Rose Bowl game, will be a high school coach in North Sacramento, Calif., high school this season.

Dividend Reduction Hurts Stocks

Prompts Flurry of Profit-Taking After Huge Wave of Buying

(Copyright, 1932, Standard Statistics Co.)

Today's market was a study in contrasts. A dividend reduction, not wholly unexpected, was sufficient to prompt a flurry of profit-taking in today's stock market, after a huge wave of buying, accelerated by strength of commodities, had swept prices up 1 to more than 5 points. Most of the advance was lost, and the close was irregular. The turnover approximated 4,500,000 shares.

The most striking advance in wheat in months had stirred the bulls to new efforts during the earlier trading in shares, but some of the leaders met persistent selling on advances. When International Harvester announced a quarterly dividend of 30 cents, as reduced from 45, during the afternoon, the list slipped rapidly.

Harvester, which had been up 2 points, reacted to close 2 lower. Case, in sympathy, lost more than half of a 5-point rise. Eastman, having pushed up 7, closed about 2 higher, and similar net gains appeared in Safeway, Macy, and the Columbia Carbon. American Telephone at no time was up more than a fraction, and it closed off 2. Rails were strong for a time, but Santa Fe closed off nearly 2 points, and Northern Pacific lost all but a fraction of a 2-point rise. United States Steel finished a fraction lower.

The strength of wheat was a particularly welcome development in Wall-st, for the somewhat soggy tendency in that market had tended to dampen bullish enthusiasm in the securities markets from time to time during the past week. Wheat had a substantial recovery, but the realer phases of the present bull movement, but more recently had receded to within a few cents of the June lows.

Bullish quarters were impressed with further scattered indications of a seasonal pickup in business, particularly improvement in sales of office equipment. This, presumably, reflected preparations for a more active advertising season in many business establishments. Internal business machines reported that August had developed into its best month so far this year, although it is not usually a month of gains in that line.

Buying of farm implements, mail order and chain store stocks was again begun in wheat and cotton. Rails were bought in some volume, particularly Canadian Pacific. Oils made moderate progress.

Utilities were inclined to lag during most of the day.

Bradstreet's compilation of bank clearings for the week ended yesterday was disappointing, failing to indicate any general commercial pickup. Clearings outside of New York city declined nearly 10 per cent, or somewhat more than the usual for the period, to a new low for the year.

Supply Governs Hog Mart Prices

Values on Upturn Today; Fluctuations Within The 25 Cent Range

Chicago.—(P)—Trend of hog prices of late evidences how sensitive trade is to supply. A few more or less offerings available than needed for immediate requirements, according to the volume concerned. Fluctuations, however, have not been wide, being confined generally within a 25c range. Values today on the upturn when only 18,000 fresh and 4,000 holdovers were on offer. Early sales on light weights and butchers were 5 to 10c higher with previous gains generally a dime up. Choices 180 to 210 lb. offerings sold at $4.75 a 4.85, best selling at $4.90. Butchers scaling 200 to 250 lbs sold from $4.50 a 4.70, heavier grades cashing as low as $4. Strong weight packing sows brought $3.40 a 3.60 with smooth light weight up to $4.

Cattle receipts today were held at 5,000, moderate run and trade was a little more active but at no change in rates where great bulk of arrivals were concerned. The anticipated $10 steer sale appeared today, heavy offerings bringing that price which stands highest since last January. Short fed steers and grassers again formed the predominate bulk of the market and were largely from $7.00 a 8.75, a few loads of choice long fed cashing at $9.00 a 9.35 with prime held higher. Yearlings heifers were not so plentiful and sold mostly at $6.50 a 7.5, best being quotable up to $8.00.

Most grass-killing steers sold from $4.50 a 6.50. Bologna bulls again stood at $3.25 and calves bulked at $6.00 a 7.00 on a steady market.

Today's run of sheep, estimated at 25,000, was largest for Thursday in some little time. Included in arrivals were eighty-six cars of rangers, a new record supply for the season. Not only were local receipts liberal, but outside points as well, resulting in a general glut, there being 73,000 at twelve leading markets against 53,000 a week earlier and 58,000 on the corresponding day last year. Trade was late getting under way, being delayed by sharply lower bids on the part of fat-lamb buyers. The low rates in force attracted some eastern shipping demand later in the session which tended to check the slump. Outstanding quality native lambs continued in relatively best demand at a premium of 75c to $1 over rated bulk of the natives bid.

Cut Corn Earlier To Put in Silo

Approximately 90 Per Cent of Kernels Should Be Dented

BY W. F. WINSEY

Ordinarily corn should be harvested for the silo about a week or 10 days before it would be cut for silage—that is, when about 90 per cent of the kernels are dented and at least 75 per cent of the kernels are hardened so that no milk can be squeezed out. At this time the lower leaves on the stalk are turning brown and the green corn fodder contains about 70 per cent of moisture, which is sufficient for silage. Silage made from corn containing moisture enough for proper preservation is more palatable than that made from corn so mature as to require the addition of water.

Corn shows a steady increase in the yield of food nutrients per acre up to the time the corn is ripe. For this reason the corn plant should be allowed to mature as much as possible and still have moisture enough to pack the corn properly in the silo without the addition of water. Probably the moisture content should not fall below 65 per cent nor exceed 75 per cent. Of course, when a large quantity of silage is made and weather conditions are unfavorable the moisture content cannot be kept within these limits.

Sometimes there is a delay in filling the silo and it is necessary to cut and shock the corn; also, on farms which have a limited silo capacity, it is often desired to refill the silos after the silage has been fed out. Dry corn fodder may be shocked successfully, but it is absolutely necessary that water enough be added to make it pack well in the silo. Water may be added by allowing a stream of water from a hose to flow into the blower pipe or the top of the blower pipe while filling. In addition, it is desirable to sprinkle the surface of the cut

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Miss Marion Krook of St. Paul, Minn., was to arrive today to spend a few weeks with Miss Alice Whittier.

Mrs. Joseph V. Derus, Jr., of Kaukauna, is distributed in the silo. Corn fodder silage is not as palatable nor as good as silage made when the corn is at the proper stage. Owing to the large quantity of water required, siloing corn fodder is advisable only on farms having a water system. The above lines may be found in Farmers Bulletin No. 578, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"

—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
